DRAMATIC MIDNIGHT COMMUNIQUE

REICHSTAG SHADOW TRIAL

COMMUNISTS HELD NOT GUILTY

NAZI LEADERS ACCUSED

London, Sept. 20.

The Communists were exonerated from the charges of incendiarism in the "Reichstag fire shadow trial," held by the International Legal Commission in London.

They issued lengthy findings today in which they conclude that the accused, Torgler, Dimitoff, Popoff and Tanneff, were not concerned directly or indirectly with the Reichstag fire.

Their findings add that there are grave grounds existing to suspect that the Reichstag was set on fire on behalf of leading Nazi personalities.

The Commission found that the fifth accused, Vanderlubbe, was an anti-Communist, who could not have committed the crime alone. —Reuter.

LEIPZIG STATEMENT.

Leipzig, Sept. 20.

On the eve of the opening of the great Reichstag fire trial, Dr. Parrissius, who organised the evidence for the trial, issued a statement to the press indicating the proposals of the prosecution.

He indicated that only Vanderlubbe would be specifically charged with incendiarism, while Torgler, the Communist leader and the three Bulgarian accused, would be charged with high treason, of which the Reichstag fire was only part.

FOUR FIRES.

Vanderlubbe would be accused of incendiarism in four cases, namely, the Reichstag, the City Hall, the ex-Imperial Palace and the Berlin Welfare Office.

Dr. Parrissius emphasised that full publicity would be given to the proceedings.

"We have nothing to conceal. We desire that truth and justice shall prevail."

Eighty-one foreign pressmen will be among the 123 journalists in court. The trial will be gramophone-recorded and the important passages will be broadcast.

Dr. Stomps, the Dutch counsel commissioned to defend Vanderlubbe, will not be admitted into court. —Reuter.

ROOSEVELT OVERRIDES THE CRITICS

Determined to Go On With Navy Programme

Washington, Sept. 20.

President Roosevelt intends proceeding without restriction in building up the American Navy to treaty limits.

The programme involves the expenditure of $47,000,000 on 37 warships, including four 10,000 ton cruisers, arrangements for the commencement of which have already been made.

STILL BELOW STRENGTH.

The President announces that the contracts already let out, will, under no circumstances, be recalled.

It is pointed out by naval officials that the building programme will result in a fleet of 100 ships below the authorised strength of 1930. —Reuter.

CUBAN REBELS SURROUNDED SITUATION STILL TENSE: MORE DESTROYERS SENT

Havana, Sept. 20.

It is officially confirmed by the Government that the rebel force under Captain Blas Hernandez has been surrounded by Government troops in Camaguey Province.

It is learned that the Englishman, Hughes, who was reported to be a prisoner in the mill of which he is the manager, is in no immediate danger.

The besiegers of his mill have now departed.

Meanwhile, the situation is not growing any better. The Revolutionary Junta has not announced a decision regarding the resignation of President Grau San Martin, and the information reaching Washington has resulted in orders by the U.S. Navy Department for four more destroyers to proceed from Guantanamo to troubled spots in Cuba. —Reuter.

LOSS TO THEOSOPHY

DEATH OF MRS. BESANT

DISCOVERED THE "NEW MESSIAH"

London, Sept. 20.

Dr. Annie Besant, the Theosophist writer and lecturer, died at Bombay to-day aged 85.

Mrs. Besant had a remarkable career. Born in London in Oct. 1847, as the daughter of Mr. Wm. P. Wood, she lost her parents at an early age.

She was brought up in the Anglican Church and in 1867 married the Rev. Frank Besant, but separated from him in 1873 to join the Free Thinkers under Charles Bradlaugh. She helped to edit the periodical of the movement, lectured all over the country and took a leading part in the long agitation to obtain for Bradlaugh the right to sit in the House of Commons.

SOCIAL WORKER.

Mrs. Besant was keenly interested in social reform and her work among the London poor led her to become a Socialist and a member of the Fabian Society. She played a large part in the campaign of the Progressive party in the first London County Council. Then she came into contact with Theosophy, deserted the Fabian Society and went to India.

In 1898 she founded the Central Hindu College at Benares which later developed into the Hindu University. From this nucleus sprang the Indian National Congress which at first concerned itself with the religious and social uplifting of the Indian people, but later became a political organisation.

MR. MATSUDAIRA DENIES RUMOUR

Story of Impending Resignation

London, Sept. 20.

Rumours have been in circulation suggesting that Mr. Matsudaira, the Japanese Ambassador, is resigning his appointment.

The reports were denied by the Ambassador to-day. He said he hoped to go to Japan for a holiday after Christmas. He had been in London for five years without leave. —Reuter.

Mrs. Besant took part in its political activities with the result that, although during the war she showed herself a loyal British subject, she was interned by the Governor of Madras on account of her efforts to secure self-government for India. In the same year as president of the Indian National Congress she had declared that India by the will of God was bound up with England so that the East and the West might unite for the good of the whole world. Thus she remained first and foremost an Englishwoman and, as the Nationalist Government in India developed in a direction of which she did not approve, she cut herself adrift from it, resigning her membership of the National Congress.

DISCOVERED NEW MESSIAH.

So ended her political life, but she continued her activities in the domain of Theosophy. In 1902 the German mystic Rudolf Steiner came under her influence, but later turned against her and in 1912 demanded that she should be removed from the leadership of the Theosophical Society, a proposal which was not agreed to. —Reuter.

CINEMA AMONG FACILITIES

INTERESTING DETAILS OF LAY-OUT PLANS

A CINEMA WILL BE ONE OF THE MODERN FEATURES OF THE NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL AND HOME TO BE ESTABLISHED AT ABERDEEN.

As has been previously indicated the Industrial School and Home at Aberdeen will be an undertaking of a nature hitherto unattempted in this part of the world.

Not only will it serve as a reformatory for juvenile offenders, but its scope will be considerably enlarged to embrace benevolent objects; in the main it will have to do with the general education and training of children of poor parents, with the stigma associated with a children's penitentiary.

CINEMA HALL.

In addition to workshops where children and young persons are to be taught the trades of the carpenter, shoemaker, printer and mechanic, a free school is also to be incorporated in the scheme, and for this purpose the building has been planned along extensive lines, to include a dozen large and airy class rooms.

Other highly interesting features will be the large concert hall and cinema projection room and a music room.

There are to be large and airy studios and dormitories, a sick room and dispensary.

In a word, the scheme will fully be what its name implies, an industrial school and home, where boys are taught, if not in exactly luxurious then in congenial surroundings.

SITE OF PAPER MILLS.

The large building which was illustrated in the Telegraph on Monday and of which a sectional plan is given, will occupy an area of roughly 60,000 sq. ft. between the main motor road to Stanley and the hillside, portions of which will have to be cut away. The site is actually that occupied by the former Paper Mills and has been granted free by the Government.

Of this area, 45,000 sq. ft. will actually be covered by the building which it is proposed to construct in four blocks with a small annexe projecting from one corner of the main section. It will be of reinforced concrete throughout, the flooring to be mainly of terrazzo, except where it is found expedient to employ wood, and windows are to be metal framed. Rising to three storeys, the building has been designed to permit of the maximum of light and ventilation.

CLOCK-TOWER.

The frontage will extend for 400 feet along the main motor road, with an imposing four dialed clock tower dominating the entrance in the main block.

At its greatest part the building will have a maximum depth of 220 ft., this receding to conform with the layout of the hillside in a succession of blocks to a point where it is only 70 ft. across.

The "A" or Main Block contains the administrative offices, and its most notable feature in addition to the clock tower, is a concert hall, with a stage, rising to a height of two storeys, with the cinema projecting room on the level of the first floor.

This hall is separated from the remainder of the block by two inner yards, and its dimensions are given as 71 ft. by 44 ft.

THE GENERAL LAYOUT.

Other details of this block are as follows:

Ground floor: A staffs and boys' dining room, and a waiting room.

First floor: Four class rooms.

Second: Three dormitories, including one over the concert hall. "B" Block.—In this block on the ground floor are grouped the main industrial features, including a tailoring room, a carpenter's workshop, a shoemaker's workshop, and a drawing room.

The first floor: Six class-rooms, European staffs' drawing room, four bedrooms and offices.

Second Floor: Two large dormitories extending over practically the whole area.

LARGE WORKSHOP.

"C" Block.—The ground floor of this block, measuring 100 ft. by 43, is wholly occupied by a workshop, and the first by a study for the boys.

The second floor has another dormitory, and also three separate bedrooms, a sick room and a dispensary.

"D" Block which connects with the rear of the main block, is 61 ft. by 68. Accommodation will be (Continued on Page 7.)

BIG MINE-LAYER JOINING CHINA SQUADRON

H.M.S. ADVENTURE COMING OUT

The British minelayer, H.M.S. Adventure is to join the China Fleet, and will arrive here in February next.

The Adventure was laid down under the 1922-23 Estimates at the Devonport Yard on November 29, 1922, completed in 1926 and commissioned in May the following year. The vessel was the design of Sir E. H. Tennyson d'Eyncourt as an experimental type, combining the characteristics of a minelayer with those of a light cruiser. The hull is flush-decked, with a marked sheer forward, and the stern curiously flat, without a counter, a new departure for the minelayer. There are four large mine-dropping ports in it. Weight has been saved by the sacrifice of armament and ammunition supply, thus giving increased capacity for mines. There are two pairs of derricks, abreast the bridge, and masts are respectively.

normal displacement of 7,260 tons. Her overall measurement is 520 feet with a beam, over bulges, of 59 feet. The mean draught is 19 1/2 feet.

When built, the Adventure was experimentally fitted with eight pom-poms on a single mounting, with distinct firing position, on the forward shelter deck. These were removed in 1930. She is now served by four 4.7 inch A.A. guns, four 3-pounders and twelve machine guns. The A.A. weapons proved such a success that they are to be adopted in the Fleet generally. In addition she carries 320 mines of an improved pattern.

A novel feature in the Adventure is the Diesel engines for cruising with an electric drive. The results of this type of engine are stated to have encouraged the use of Diesel engines for the propulsion of the H.M.S. Medway which is at present on the China Station.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIET

U.S.A. LIKELY TO ACT SOON

PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE

New York, Sept. 20.

The recognition of Soviet Russia before Congress reconvenes is reliably indicated.

It is learned that President Roosevelt told a consultant on foreign affairs that he wished to dispose of the recognition issue while he was assured of freedom of action.

It is also learned that Mr. Jesse Jones, the chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and M. Bogdanov, chairman of the Amtorg, or Russian trading company in America, have been conferring on the possible extension of additional R. F. C. credit to Russia.

The extension of credit would be to enable Russia to purchase additional American commodities.

LOCAL FORMATION OF R.N.V.R.

Meeting To Be Held Next Week

A meeting of members of the Yacht Club who are interested in the formation of the proposed Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve has been called by Mr. A. L. Shields, the Commodore.

The nature of the organisation will be explained and members and other interested persons will have an opportunity to ask questions. The meeting is to be held on Thursday next.

national American commodities. The question of Russian recognition was accepted as the principal obstacle in the way of a wide credit programme for Russia.

The New York Herald-Tribune said that it was informed the R. F. C. was contemplating extending an additional $50,000,000 credit to the Soviet government.

It was reported that Russia intends to purchase 500,000 bales of cotton, as well as other commodities.

A large amount of cotton has already been sold to Russia on R.F.C. credit.

CREDIT FACILITIES.

Washington, Sept. 20.

A project has been launched for relieving the market of nine million bales of cotton.

As the outcome of representations by the delegates of nine States, Mr. Johnson, the financial adviser to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, has undertaken to ask the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to finance the purchase of six million bales, while the Soviet have offered to buy three million if credit facilities are granted. —Reuter.

Political Upheaval In Austria

STARTLING VIENNA DEVELOPMENTS

CABINET CLASH RUMOURS

Vienna, Sept. 21.

The wildest rumours are in circulation following a dramatic decision by the Chancellor, Dr. Dollfuss, to assume virtual dictatorship, with himself in the leading role.

There are reports of serious breach between Dr. Dollfuss and many of the leading figures in his Cabinet.

According to the Neue Freie Presse, the Vice-Chancellor, Herr Winkler, the Minister of the Interior, Herr Schumy, the Minister of Public Safety, Dr. Fey, known as "Austria's strong man," whose name has frequently been mentioned as possible Dictator, and two Secretaries of State have resigned.

It is also rumoured that Dr. Vaugin, the Defence Minister has resigned.

PRES. MIKLAS ACCEPTS.

These sensational developments followed upon a visit by Dr. Dollfuss to President Miklas, after which it was announced that he had decided personally to take over the entire State Executive.

The communique issued at midnight added that Dr. Dollfuss would form a Cabinet of the leading personalities. All members of the Cabinet who were members of Parliament would resign their mandates. —Reuter.

HOPES RISE AGAIN

CABINET MEETS ON DISARMAMENT

OUTLOOK NOW BRIGHTER

London, Sept. 20.

The Foreign Secretary and Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Sir John Simon, and Capt. Anthony Eden will leave London either to-morrow or Friday for Geneva. They will break the journey in Paris where they will see the French ministers who took part in the conversations with Captain Eden and Lord Tyrrell earlier this week.

A full report of these Paris conversations was presented to a special meeting of the Cabinet held in Downing Street this afternoon. Their purpose was mainly explanatory and exploratory, and the British Cabinet was to-day, for the first time, in a position to understand what the French Government have in mind on every point which arises in connection with the disarmament problem.

It is understood that the British ministers were much impressed by their helpful and reasonable attitude, and it was found that the views of the two Governments do not largely differ on any question.

CONVENTION.

The British Government are at present considering a disarmament convention in relation to the French proposals regarding the supervision and inspection of armaments but that is only one of the points which must be considered in relation to the whole Disarmament Conference, and upon which no one Government can alone reach a decision.

In Geneva next week, conversations will take place in which (Continued on Page 7.)

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

AN OLD IDEA IN MODERN GUISE

LEG-O'-MUTTON SLEEVES GIVE MESS JACKET CHARM

No wardrobe is complete without at least one little mess jacket of linen or pique. They're the newest note for cocktail parties. A smartly styled pique mess jacket, such as Muriel Kirkland is shown wearing here, has full leg-o'-mutton sleeves, wide lapels and a four-button closing. You can wear it over your evening frock, as well as on the street and with afternoon clothes.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Wear Gloves For Nail Protection

By Alicia Hart

If you want your fingernails to look fresh and dainty to complement your light summer clothes, you'll have to give them a little added attention.

Nails become more brittle in the summer time. This is due, of course, to the fact that you are apt to go without gloves more often. But wear gloves as much as you can. Cotton, washable ones, aren't really so uncomfortable once you get into the habit of wearing them.

Cuticle which has a tendency to get hard and rough should be rubbed with olive oil or cocoa butter each night before you go to bed. Leave it on all night. You'll be surprised at the results of this simple treatment.

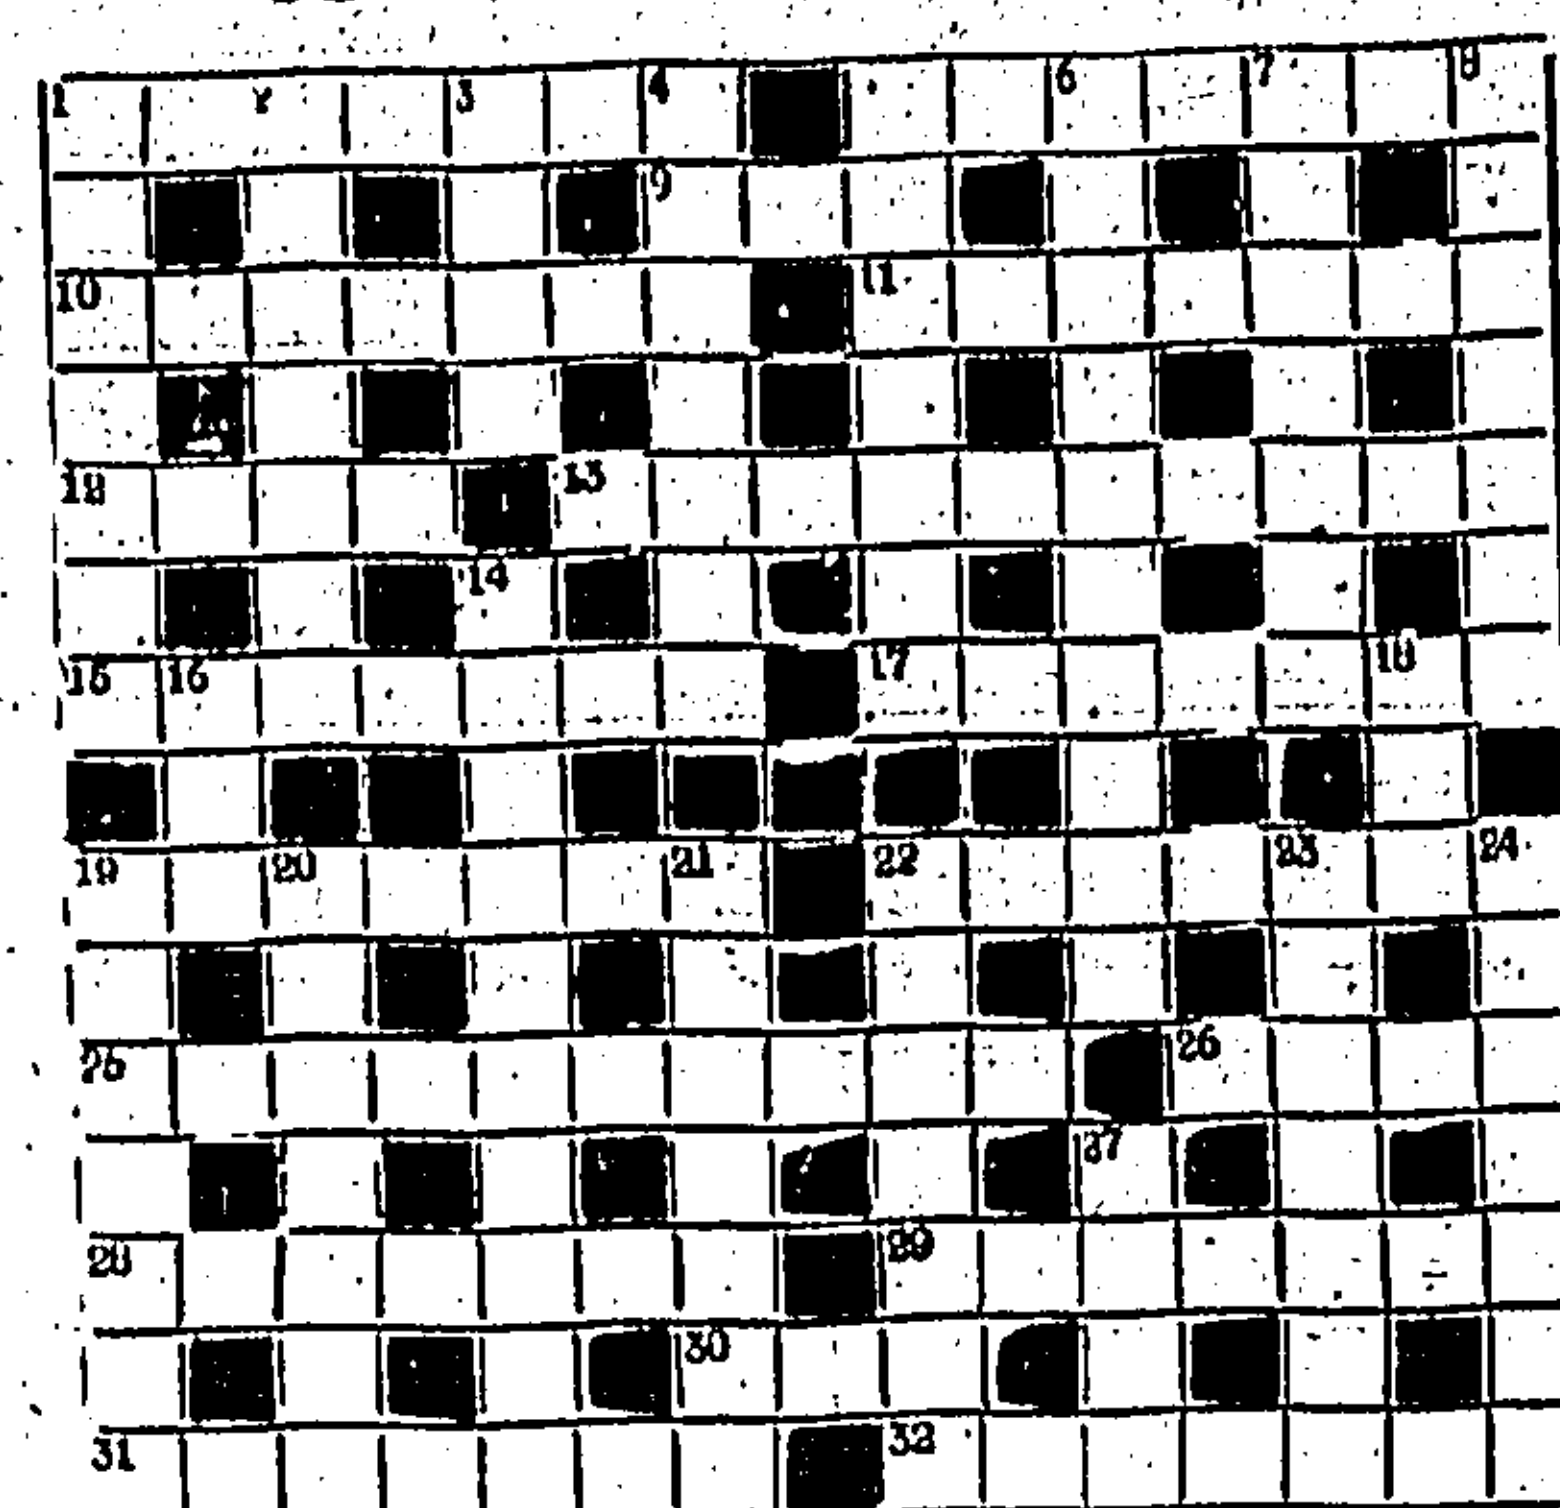

Your hands need washing oftener in summer. And do use a nail brush. It will go far toward removing grime and dirt which doesn't come easily with soap and water. Be sure and push back the cuticle when you dry your hands. If you are an ardent beach bather remember that salt water and beach sands will raise havoc with your nails if you don't take a few precautions. It is an excellent idea to carry a small orange stick in the pocket of your beach pajamas. Use it often to keep your hands looking neat.

Keep your nails shorter if you are vacationing in a camp or near a beach. The chances are ten to one that you'll break long ones. Anyway, shorter nails are easier to keep clean.

Neutral or colourless polish is best with delicate summer clothes. Leave the harsh pinks and reds unworn when your gowns are more sophisticated.

SALESMAN SAM

And On: Sam Will Go!

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XXVII

Saturday evening Dick took Eve to dinner at a popular restaurant known as the Old Plantation. The atmosphere was that of the hospitable old south. Pretty mulatto girls, wearing bandanas and checked gingham dresses, served Maryland fried chicken and corn fritters. A string quartet played lively tunes and Eve soon found herself dancing with spirit.

Later they were joined by a group of Dick's business friends and she enjoyed the evening so much she was almost able to forget that Bixby's had lost $2,000 through a mistake in her department.

The next day she and Dick went for a long ride in the country. Office cares seemed far away and Eve arrived home tired and sleepy from being so long in the fresh air. But Monday morning as she neared the office she began to feel nervous. Barnes would be back to-day and the dreaded interview must take place.

The advertising manager summoned her to his office at 9:30. Eve managed a tremulous smile as she entered but Barnes' face was grim, his voice crisp.

"I scarcely need tell you, Mrs. Rader," he began, "that the price error in Saturday's cont advertisement was the worst of the kind the store has ever had. I am amazed that you should have permitted such a blunder."

Eve started to speak but he silenced her with a curt gesture. "It is one of the things that simply cannot be explained away or smoothed over," he continued. "Eve was determined to explain. She had decided to tell of Monna's treachery even at the risk of being considered 'catty.'"

"But you don't understand—" she began.

"I understand the result of the mistake and results are what count in this department," he went on. "I feared your marriage would interfere with your interest in your work here. All I have to say now is—don't let anything of the sort happen again!" There was a grim threat in the words.

Furious that he had not permitted her to defend herself, Eve returned to her desk. Monna had scored against her at every point. Eve was tempted to go to Mr. Bixby about the affair; tempted, too, to resign. But she knew that was exactly what Monna had hoped might happen and therefore it was the one thing Eve determined not to do.

At 10:30 a rosy-cheeked little woman with a youthful face and graying hair appeared and asked for Mr. Barnes. Arlene escorted her to his office.

A few moments later the buzzer sounded for Eve and she was introduced to the newcomer. "This is Mrs. Penney," said Barnes. "She will take Miss Vlad's place."

Eve took the new artist into the outer office and introduced her to the rest of the advertising staff and to her new duties.

"At first I felt sorry for her," Eve told Dick that night, "but after she began to work I knew why Barnes had hired her. That woman has genius!"

Mrs. Penney adjusted herself easily to the office routine and Eve blessed her for that. With things running smoothly again, Barnes resumed a more pleasant attitude toward his co-workers and the tension was lifted.

Apparently mild and yielding, Mrs. Penney proved to be firm and self-reliant to a surprising degree. Even Monna, who usually found some means of gaining her own ends in such matters, could neither outwit nor wheedle Mrs. Penney into taking care of minor details of office routine which were Monna's responsibility or exchanging lunch periods to suit Monna's whims.

Mrs. Penney was a widow with a young daughter who was in college. Every stroke of the artist's pencil was for the sole object of assuring her daughter's education. Mrs. Penney worked swiftly and untiringly eight hours a day—longer when necessary. But she managed to turn out smart, finished drawings at a speed which usually enabled her to leave the office promptly at closing time.

Eve, looking ahead, felt that Mrs. Penney would be very helpful in putting the office routine on a prompt and efficient basis whenever the time came that Barnes should leave and Eve herself be in charge of the advertising office.

And then Eve's mother came to visit her. Kate Bayless made an inspection tour of the apartment, then shook her head and decided to spend the morning doing the things Eve found little time for. Painstakingly she "did up" all the ruffled curtains and washed the delicate crocheted rugs. To Dick's delight, she discarded the "bachlor buttons" which Eve had been snapping on his clothes and replaced them with buttons sewed on firmly with heavy thread. She spent three mornings darning heels and toes and catching runners in hosiery. And she made orange marmalade and a supply of noodles calculated to last into the summer.

Every noon Kate met her daughter in the ladies' lounge at Bixby's. Here, while she waited, Kate sat at one of the desks and addressed postal cards to relatives, neighbors and friends at home. During luncheon Eve planned the afternoon's entertainment for her mother—usually either a shopping tour or a matinee. Later Dick would meet her and take her home in time to prepare an old-fashioned, appetizing dinner before Eve's arrival.

"Why, I could almost forget there is such a place as home," Kate said one day, "if it wasn't for worrying whether Pa is getting enough to eat and if he remembers to feed the canary! I'll bet my plants will be all dried up, too, for want of a little attention."

At the end of a week no amount of persuasion could keep her in Lake City any longer. "I've fixed you up a bit and that will give you a good start again," she told Eve. "I'd much rather you'd stay at home and not try to do too much. No good can come of it—and I'm worried about your nerves."

When the train pulled out of the station Eve and Dick, standing below, watched Kate smiling at them through the closed window. Eve's own eyes were blurred as she waved a last goodbye.

The week had passed so swiftly that her mother's departure had been unexpected. Eve regretted that she had not found time to take her mother to the stock exchange and the brokerage office. "Mother gets such a kick out of seeing what makes the wheels go 'round and she's such a good sport that I like to show her new things," Eve told herself.

She was watching the activities of the market anxiously these days. Pure Soap, Inc., had fallen four points and then, following brisk selling, had resumed its former high and plunged ahead. This fluctuation caused a similar one in Eve's spirits. She looked at fellow passengers on the trolley with a new interest as she rode to the store each morning. She wondered if some of them were similarly concerned over the market news.

It did not occur to her that men and women might suffer huge financial loss and still maintain their bearings.

And then Pure Soap, Inc., reached the point Eve had been hoping for. Lest it take another slump she hurried to the bank that noon and arranged to sell.

She felt rich as she figured her gain. After all, one had to pay some price for success and this had cost her only anxiety. She was eager for a new venture in finance.

Eve left the office that evening promptly as the closing gong sounded. Sam was waiting at the side entrance for Arlene and they offered to take Eve home. Thus it happened that she reached their apartment before Dick, who had been detained by some extra work.

Eve still exulting over her financial gains, set light-heartedly to work to cook the dinner. It would be nice to surprise Dick by having the meal ready when he came. But scarcely had she started her preparations when the telephone rang.

There was a perceptible pause after Eve answered. She was almost certain she heard a sharp in-

The voice was Monna Allen's. That she had been given the number of Eve's telephone by mistake was possible, of course, but a coincidence almost beyond Eve's credulity. What could it mean? Had Monna been telephoning to Dick? (To be Continued.)

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S MARKET EASY

According to Messrs. Swan Colbertson and Fritz, the New York market was easy yesterday. Business done 2,420,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal report on yesterday's market:

The market declined due to persistent domestic and foreign unloading mainly on account of the uncertainty as to the future of the U.S. dollar. The Secretary of Agriculture (Mr. Wallace) statement "that inflation was not a cure-all" unsettled foreign exchange which at first was buoyant against the dollar, later reacting sharply and declining at the close. Reports that the Soviet is seeking a large amount of copper strengthened metal. Our New York Office Cable (This morning):

Stocks: The coolness shown by officials of the Administration to the pressure of inflationists probably is responsible for most of the selling which took place. The list is likely to meet with support soon. Wheat: Realizing by professionals on weakness of stocks and cotton broke wheat prices sharply. Eastern buying, however, absorbed and selling. Considering the news and the trade, the market is acting admirably well and buying is still advised on breaks. Cotton: Liquidation by disappointed overnight inflationists and accumulated hedge selling on an extended market precipitated the decline which was furthered by stop loss orders. Nothing is yet evident to indicate an early change in the attitude of the Administration. The trade bought on declines. The Government weekly crop report is favourable. Silver: After a strong session the market moved easier on reaction of the general market. "Ironage Magazine" Cable.

Steel production was reported at 43% of capacity due to pressure for shipments which were previously ordered. Otherwise bookings show a decline. The industry is uneasy about prices which were filed for the fourth quarter because of declining business and rising production costs.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1933.

A FORTY HOUR WEEK

The International Labour Office of the League of Nations has now issued to all governments a questionnaire on the debated subject of the reduction of hours of work as a remedy for unemployment. At the last International Labour Conference practically all the workers' representatives and a considerable proportion of the governments present were in favour of concluding an immediate Convention limiting hours of work to forty in the week. The chief opposition came, of course, from employers; but the British Government also opposed the idea of the Convention, pointing out that the information available on the economic and social effects of a reduction of hours is still very incomplete. The present questionnaire, therefore, contains, besides the usual set of questions bearing indirectly on the nature of the proposed Convention, a further preliminary questionnaire asking Governments to submit information on the whole subject of hours of work and costs. Governments are asked to report on numbers employed and unemployed, existing hours and the extent to which the average working week has in practice been reduced by means of general reductions, rotation systems, and so on; the effect which a reduction of hours to forty per week would have in increasing or decreasing unemployment and on the labour market according as existing rates of pay were reduced proportionately to the reduction of hours, or increased to leave the Total Wages Bill unchanged; indications of the measures which would be necessary to neutralise or mitigate a reduction of unemployment in industries in which this might result from reduction of hours; the extent to which costs of production and the general national economy would be affected according as the wage bill were reduced proportionately or maintained; the effect of a reduction of hours on social insurance schemes, and the technical practicability of reducing hours to forty per week. These questions constitute a formidable list, and it is very doubtful whether many governments will be able to give satisfactory answers to all of them. At the same time, the most advanced industrial countries, which are those whose attitude is most important, are also those in which the information concerned is likely to be most complete. It would certainly be advantageous from every point of view if a clear picture of the whole position resulting from a reduction in hours of work could be obtained. It may possibly prove difficult to obtain the admission of many industrial countries to an international convention for the reduction of hours. But the compilation and publication of this information

NOTES OF THE DAY

JACK ASHORE

Sleeping accommodation for Jack ashore is an ever recurring problem in Hongkong cropping up as soon as the Fleet is in for the winter. This year, although additional accommodation will be provided in the new wing of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, it will still be insufficient. On an average 830 ratings sleep ashore each night during the winter and last year there were beds for 640 only. Many men were compelled to sleep on the floor of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home—a sorry state of affairs. The maximum number of ratings allowed shore leave at night is 2,800 but in view of the restriction in sleeping accommodation only a quarter of them are able to obtain the full value of that leave, the remainder having to content themselves with berths in a "steel box", as the Commodore so aptly described the warship the other day. Here is an opportunity for the community to show interest in the welfare of the blue jacket. Why not open some of the halls in the Colony as dormitories when not needed for other purposes? The cost of equipping them could undoubtedly be met from the small charge made for accommodation.

MRS. BESANT

The decisive influence on the remarkable career of Mrs. Annie Besant, the world-famous theosophist, whose death occurred yesterday, was her meeting with the Russian mystic, Mme. Blavatsky, who introduced her to Theosophy. Having joined the Theosophical Society, she devoted all her energies to its service, and Mr. Bernard Shaw met his match when he went to protest against her desertion of the Fabian Society. She replied that, like him, she had become a vegetarian and that perhaps this had enfeebled her brain. She travelled all over the world and spread the tenets of her faith and after the death of Mme. Blavatsky in 1891, she became the acknowledged leader of the movement. In the following year she transferred her main activities to India, taking up her abode in Madras and combining religious, social and political work, playing an important part in political developments for nearly thirty years.

THE NEW CUNARDER

Again it is being rumoured that work on the new Cunarder will soon be resumed. It is understood, however, that this depends upon Government support and that this again depends on the amalgamation of the Cunard and White Star lines. Should this development occur, it would cause little surprise in shipping circles. The merger will involve the establishment of a holding company to be known as the British National Services, with the Cunard Line dominating the partnership through its stronger financial position. This much of the undertaking is distinctly a step in the right direction. Street economy is essential in shipping today. With the elimination of duplication in operating facilities and co-ordination of services rather than competition, much should be achieved in that respect. Britain perhaps may dislike to view its shipping policy as an outright subvention. Yet if it is a subsidy, it is necessitated by policies of co-ordinated control pursued by other European countries.

SIZE COMPETITION

Italy is waving the flag in jubilation over the feat of the Rex and its passage of four days, thirteen hours, fifty-eight minutes is noteworthy. But from the standpoint of practical economy, it is doubtful whether the Rex's fuel consumption chart reveals figures to advance the cause of the extravagant superliner. With the Clyde-side about to renew work on the huge Cunarder, probably designed to surpass the Rex, international competition for size and speed in ocean liners takes another costly step. This phase of the merger presents a striking paradox to the save-the-ropes-yarns policy which actuates the undertaking. It indicates that the spectre of nationalism has not yet been driven off. From a self-centred viewpoint, the shipping amalgamation is a reasonable move. But if the merchant services of the world fail to weather off their respective governments, all may eventually be obliged to adopt a policy which many observers believe should have been pursued long ago—international agreement and co-operation.

can hardly fail to hasten on the general movement towards reduction which is spreading so fast in individual industries and firms.

GADGET MANIA IN GOLF

He had been eight years upon a project for extracting sunbeams out of cucumbers....Gulliver's Travels.

—By VAGRANT

THE letter of enthusiastic appreciation from a correspondent regarding a new grip set me musing on the numerous additions to the golfer's outfit. The coming of the bag was before my day, and really the first of the extras I can remember was the captive ball which had a long string attached to it with a little parachute at the other end. We once had one at home for a month or two but it left us in stirring circumstances.

It was a peaceful summer afternoon with the hum of the insects playing seconds to a distant mowing machine. My father hit the ball well and the clattering jingle of falling glass sounded like the collapse of the Crystal Palace rather than the shattering of a conservatory pane. The irate owner popped his head above the wall. A velvet smoking cap he wore, to make matters worse—one of those with a tassels.

To my father's explanation that it was a captive ball, he paid scant attention. Looking back on the scene now, my father's story, as he stood dangling, as the only flimsy evidence of his innocence, the blameless parachute on the fickle string that had severed a long partnership with the errant ball without warning, sounded the ready invention of an agile brain, for golf was little known amongst the Sassanachs in those days. Even so, despite his ignorance of golf and aeronautics, our neighbour was gradually soothing down, and was about to descend his ladder, when my father caught sight of me, holding my sides in dumb, agonising mirth behind the rainwater tub. He struggled for one breathless second, wavered, and all his solemnity, too, came off the string of control. The smoking cap disappeared with a mumble of imprecations. The ball we never saw again. But I always considered it a wonderful afternoon for ten shillings worth of glass.

That was many years ago, and the captive ball seems to me by far the earliest of golf gadgets. Then there is a long gap with rubber tees, with gorgeous tassels attached, as the next milestone, and the steady development of the rubber-cored ball as a never ceasing undertone. (Can anyone forget the proud ownership of the first one? I found mine in a cabbage patch at Seaford and lost it one stroke later in the gorse. Sic transit...) After rubber tees, folding—with three different heights made thus available—came, I think, peg-tees, which were scorned at first by the golfers of the low-handicap class, but soon became universally used. Harry Vardon was, I fancy, the last of the great ones to desert the sand-box. The first of the peg-tees were made of wood, but they were soon followed by metal ones, which got into the moving machines, so it was said, then bone ones, tees of compressed milk, papermache and goodness knows what else besides. And close on the flood came smart little cases to carry them in. These memories whetted my appetite, and yesterday I promised myself a gargantuan a la carte. So it was I spent an exhaustive, exhausting time tasting all the golfing fare provided in the shops of various professionals, and in the golf requisite departments of various West End emporia, in one of which, with the critical eye of the greatest of lady golfers upon me, my innate shyness and acknowledged ineptitude prevented me from displaying my cracking swing. Rather would I invite Mrs. Battle to a game of "Rummy." And I issued gorged with knowledge.

It can be said without fear of contradiction that the march of time has seen each golden hour improved by the opportunism of the golf salesman, and the home of a real enthusiast has become a museum of aids to the breaking of 90. Another round of the shops and only the Olympia will house the spoils.

That gallows in the corner is a device to keep the head motionless when practising swinging. (Who was it said the guillotine was the only cure for dandruff?) The odd rubber contraption on the floor is calculated to groove the swing. Here are casts of great golfers' grips, which can be fixed to the club and faithfully overlapped, unless, of course, your hands, like mine, resemble wicket-keeping gloves. "Could we but wear their shoes," I said, but this brilliant double entendre missed fire, so I pass it on to you. To keep the left arm straight is a leather sleeve with a touch of the surgical macabre about it. The floor is littered with substitutes for holes that one may practise putting indoors, when daylight fades, with a bent gripped putter to ensure the perfect pendulum swing. Nor has the garden escaped, for just between the clock-golf and the shrubbery are a net into which are let pookies at varying heights, and a vast slab of plasticine against which to drive a ball and see the error of flight clearly indicated by the indentation. In place of the old captive ball of heroic memories there is a ball on a string, with a length of rubber at right angles to the flight. The ball comes back but cannot hit you. I wonder? No form of mechanism ever does what it ought to do with me—I once lost a finger-nail in a mouse-trap.

But of all these fascinating games, the one I like best is that which enables the player to drive a soft ball which is attached to strong rubber to limit its flight to about three feet. If the drive is accurate the ball hits a target and rings a bell, of which the cheerful tinkle is somewhat drowned by the record of golf instruction being ground out by the gramophone at the open window.

And to-day I shall set out with my gay umbrella and shooting stick combined. Behind me will come my wooden clubs gaily caparisoned in woollen sleeping helmets, or, subject to the infallible weather report on this fallible weather covers, and a page, mackintosh covers, and a jangling armoury of graded irons. In a bag of bungalow dimensions. And there will be mackintosh trousers and coats in the great

The Very Idea!

WEATHER OR NOT!

By Edward Kelly, Meteorologist

WE have now become a full-fledged citizen of Hongkong.

From now on, we can gaze down upon all newcomers with a supercilious stare, and, when they mention typhoons, sniff.

We refer, of course, to the typhoon yesterday.. As soon as the No. 9 signal was hoisted we looked it up in our typhoon guide. "Gale expected to increase," it said.

We slung the perspiration off ourselves with a wet forefinger and felt thankful.

A miasma of deathly stillness hung over Hongkong, but we knew it couldn't last.

The No. 9 signal, like the celebrated pills of the same name, would soon start thim-ming.

That nothing happened was not the fault of the Weather Bureau. How could Mr. Jeffries help it if one of his isobars fused? When isobar not a bar? If so, why not?

And once we've started in this strain nothing can stop us. We intend to write about the weather weather you like it or not.

The wind is what causes it. Up at the Royal Observatory the barometer drops and the typhoon signal goes up. They always do things by opposites. That's why typhoon means "big wind" in Chinese.

When the barometer drops, Mr. Jeffries awakens, and picks up the pieces. This is known as relative humidity, meaning a dead relation in a hot place.

After the barometer drops two or three times, Mr. Jeffries gets tired of picking it up, so he hoists the typhoon signal.

All you have to do then is listen to other people, while they tell you about the '06 typhoon, or the '23 typhoon, until the barometer is permanently fixed in position with a piece of string.

The typhoon signal is then lowered, and Mr. Jeffries goes home to bed, conscious of a good day's work.

Typhoon is the Chinese name for cyclones, tornados, hurricanes, blizzards, and depressions generally, depending on what part of the world you live in.

Owing to the financial blizzard, America can have only one depression, or tornado, a year. This is naturally referred to as the economic depression.

Frank things often happen in typhoons in other parts of the world. In Mexico the other day a church was swung around on its axis, so that the front door became the back, and vice versa.

We have often been that way ourselves, but never at a church. There was the other instance of a girl who was walking along the seashore at Palm Beach with her boy friend. They were suddenly struck by a tornado, which did not harm them, but tore the girl's dress completely off.

Since then she has been referred to as the girl who went down to the sea in slips.

So when you sum it all up, there's not much use for typhoons. About the only decent thing they do is fill the reservoirs with rain.

Thus the only man who is really pleased when a typhoon happens along is Mr. Tickle.

He is able to lift the water restrictions in time to have another water shortage next year.

He is the only man to whom a "blow" is not a terrible blow.

We were asking him about it the other day.

"What," we asked, "would be your last message to the public of Hongkong if you were caught in the middle of Shung Mun dam in a typhoon?"

"Au reservoir," he answered.

SLIPS THAT PASS

A correspondent, drawing attention to the number of typographical errors in Hongkong newspapers, quotes several amusing examples. A Sunday radio column advertised the hymn "Ford her watch" from St. John's Cathedral, and the correspondent suggests that this may be taken as an anticipation of Huxley's "Year of Our Ford." In a sporting paragraph a tennis player won his title in 1823, while another paper gave among its commercial items the fact that imports into Holland included canned beer.

Of course, it should be remembered that in the arduous every newspaper employs Chinese scribe-typists, many of whom have only a smattering of English. Typographical errors have occurred in every newspaper in the world, in this respect even the London Times is not infallible.

In view of these social circumstances that arise in the arduous newspaper business, a fairly high standard of "Miss Takes do occur, but Hongkong papers are by no means alone in this respect."

FAR EAST AIR MAIL NETWORK

COMPLETION IN TWO YEARS

BRITISH PLANS

London, Sept. 20. The International Air Traffic Association will hold its half-yearly conference in London next week.

Thirty countries will be represented and Mr. Woods Humphrey, Managing Director of Imperial Airways, will preside.

Membership of the Association is limited to firms running regular air lines in their own or other countries. Among matters to be considered are the unification of methods of operation and the facilitation of passenger and goods traffic.

At the first session, Lord Londonderry, Minister for Air, will address the delegates.

National Air Transport Companies are now extending the work being done by private aeroplane owners in encouraging continental touring. They are offering air travel at fares often below those of corresponding first class rail and boat travel and they are working to a percentage efficiency figures now comparable with that for trains and boats.

One of the important developments in British air transport is the extension of the Indian air line to Calcutta and thence to Rangoon.

By Christmas, it is hoped the line will have been extended to Singapore and then the final link between England and Australia will remain for the dominion to complete.

Following yesterday's announcement that the Imperial Airways air mail service to India is being extended to Rangoon on Saturday, it is indicated that regular air-lines linking London with Siam, Hongkong, Manila, Shanghai and Tokyo are expected to be in operation within the next two years.

Plans are already completed for the inauguration of the much discussed England-Australia air service in March of next year.

The present England-India air-line which terminates at Calcutta is to be extended to Rangoon this week and before the end of the year Imperial Airways liners will be flying regularly between London and Singapore.

From Singapore to Port Darwin, the Australian terminus of the main airline, the service will be taken over by a company selected by the Australian government. As soon as this main line is established, the organisation of further extensions and auxiliary services will be begun.

BRITISH LINE TO MANILA?
The linking of the Australian airway with Siam, Hongkong, Shanghai and Tokyo is already under consideration, for it is foreseen that at each of these points the ramifications of local and international airlines will serve to increase the flow of traffic on the main British trunk line.

It is understood that a British service is being planned between Hongkong and Manila.

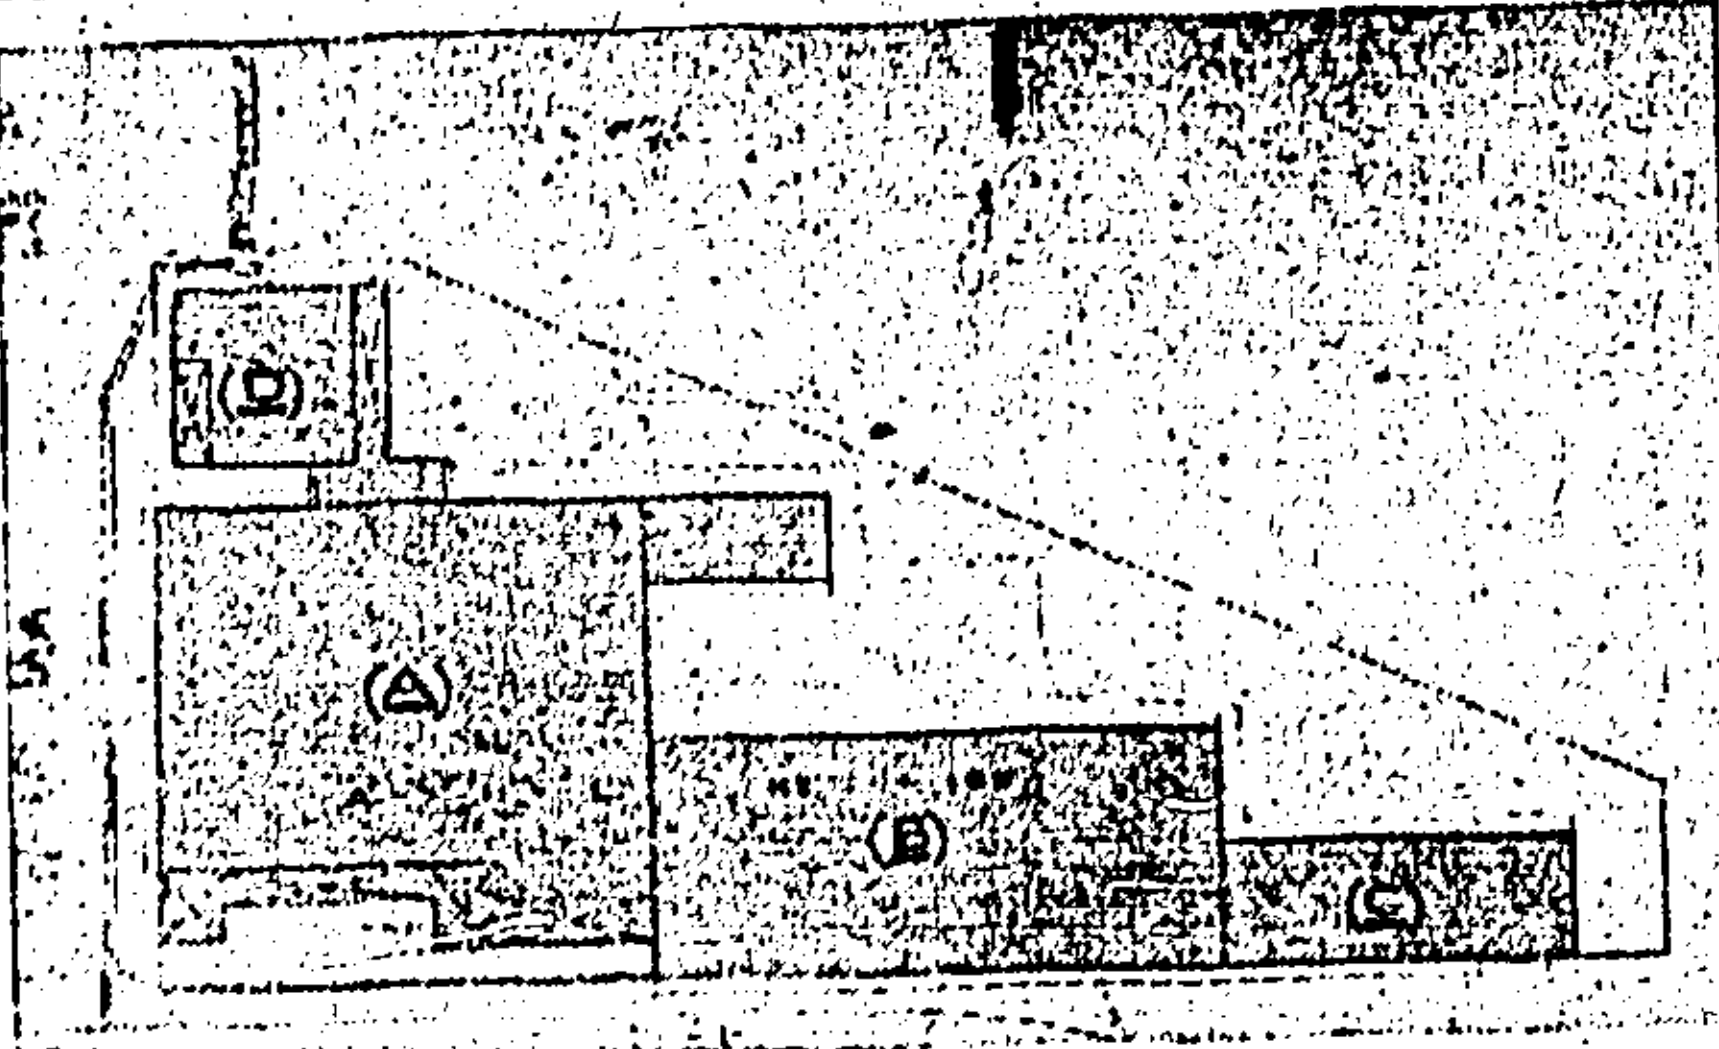

Other plans for the extension of the Australian service include routes to Tasmania and New Zealand. Thus, in a comparatively short time, all parts of the Orient and the Antipodes will be in direct aerial communication with London.

BACK IN TEN DAYS.
A satisfactory survey flight over the London-Sydney route was recently completed by Major H. G. Brackley, the Air Superintendent of Imperial Airways, covering 23,540 miles in "Astraea," one of the fleet of eight four-engined Armstrong Whitworth monoplane, designed specially for operation along the extra-European routes of Imperial Airways.

Accompanied by Mr. Hudson Fysh, the managing director of Queensland and Northern Territories Aerial Services, Major Brackley made the return trip from Australia to England in ten days, which is very little outside the existing record for the journey. 130 MILES AN HOUR.

These Armstrong Whitworth machines, which are to be used on the England-Australia service, when loaded to a total weight of 20,000 pounds reach a maximum speed of 165 miles an hour and cruise comfortably at 130 miles an hour. With only one engine stopped and with full load on board they can maintain level flight at all heights up to seven thousand feet. Accommodation may be provided for seventeen passengers.

Further improvement are being considered, however, which will give the planes a cruising speed of 185 m.p.h., with a load of 25,000 pounds a rate of climb of 1,000 feet per minute and seating accommodation for twenty passengers.

A block plan of the new Industrial School which will aid the reader in appreciating the lay-out.

WAR RESUMED IN GRAN CHACO

PARAGUAY REJECTS ARBITRATION

Buenos Aires, Sept. 16. Renewed intensive fighting in the Gran Chaco was reported today, after peace efforts by neighbouring countries apparently were on the verge of success.

Bolivian reports claimed that Paraguayans were repulsed after a four-day encounter, inflicting heavy casualties.

On the other hand, Asuncion accounts said that four Bolivian regiments were annihilated.

It was authoritatively learned that Paraguay has rejected the latest proposal of Argentine, Brazil, Chile and Peru for a settlement of the prolonged border dispute.

Bolivia ordered next year's recruits to be mobilized, October 1. However, Bolivia insisted that she was still studying the A. B. C. P. proposals.

NEW REGIME IN SPAIN MENACED

Lerroux Threatened With General Strike

Madrid, Sept. 17. The newly formed government of Senor Lerroux is threatened with a revolutionary general strike, designed to overthrow it, only a few days after taking up the helm of government.

The authorities reported the discovery of plans to stage a general strike on Monday.

It was believed the Left Wing group, including Socialists, Communists and certain army elements, were attempting to overthrow the Lerroux regime.

GENERAL EFFECT.

The general effect is that an agreement within recent weeks has been brought sensibly nearer, and although many difficult points are still outstanding, the chances of securing a disarmament convention have undergone a distinct improvement since the conference adjourned last June.—British Wireless.

The annex which with the "B" Block encloses a yard, has been set aside as accommodation for the European staff, and contains a dining room and bedrooms.

As previously stated, the construction of the building is being financed by a group of Chinese businessmen and philanthropists headed by Mr. Li Yau-tsun, of China Building. The main building contract being carried out by Messrs. Cheong Hing Co., will entail an initial outlay of $240,000, excluding the cost of equipment.

The work will occupy a year, and on completion, the Salesian Fathers who have had considerable experience in the training of children, will be given charge.

left the movement and in 1913 founded his "Anthroposophical Society."

In 1911 one of Mrs. Besant's adherents had founded the "Order of the Star in the East" to prepare the way for a new mission, whom she had "discovered" in the Hindu youth Krishnamurti. The education of the lad was entrusted to a former Australian cleric named Leadoeater, but later trouble arose with him over his treatment of his charge. Meanwhile Krishnamurti (Q.V.) had been solemnly proclaimed as the new Messiah. Among his twelve apostles were Mrs. Besant, three Anglican clergymen, a Buddhist and several Brahmins. His adoption led to dissensions in the Theosophical Society. The Canadian section rejected him; The Czechoslovak society seceded and there were many defections in Australia, South Africa and elsewhere. In London Mrs. Besant was asked what right she had to impose a new Messiah and a new religion on the movement.

ELOQUENT AT 80.

Krishnamurti himself has denied that he is the new Messiah, merely speaking and writing of Christ's teachings as he finds them. His official title is the "Vehicle of the World-Teacher." Early in 1927 Mrs. Besant appealed for $40,000 to buy the Ojai Valley in California which should be the seat of a higher-plane civilisation "in which bodies, emotions and minds shall be trained and disciplined in the divine life, developing the spirit of brotherhood practically in everyday arrangements and methods of living. The colony was to be called the happy "Valley Foundation" and Krishnamurti was to take up his abode there.

After the war despite her years Mrs. Besant travelled annually from India to England where she delivered many addresses. An eloquent and vigorous speaker with a wonderful voice she was still able at the age of 80 to hold a great audience.—British Wireless and I.B.S.

PRESIDENT QUILTS

CUBA WANTS A NEW LEADER

Havana, Sept. 20. An epidemic of strikes and a threat of civil war has whipped up passion to fever heat in the interior of Cuba.

The Government is frantically endeavouring to allay this feeling and has issued a decree making an eight hour day effective from October 20.

In the meantime, the acuteness of the situation is reflected in an unconformable report surrounding the veteran rebel leader, Blas Hernandez. With 500 followers he was reported to be marching on Havana from Camaguey.

It is stated that Mazonera and loyalist leaders commanding 600 soldiers and students, after exchanging shots, hemmed in the rebels, some of whom have already surrendered.—Reuters.

HURRICANE TOLL

FIFTY PERISH IN MEXICAN STORM

Mexico City, Sept. 20. At least fifty lives were lost in Mexico as the result of the hurricane which swept round the Gulf of Mexico and northward against the United States cities, according to reports from Tampico.

Most of the persons killed were washed out of lowlying structures beside the river Thames, which runs to the sea at Tampico.

Three thousand are homeless. Military and the civic authorities are making superhuman efforts to alleviate the misery which the hurricane has wrought.—Reuters.

CLAN BRAWL NIPPED IN BUD.

NEAR RIOT AVOIDED IN STANLEY-STREET

Early last evening the Police were informed that members of two different clans, engaged as shop foks and coolies in Stanley Street and its neighbourhood, had planned a fight to take place later in the evening.

The Emergency Unit was despatched and stood by, while a party of police officers went to Stanley Street where they arrested six loiterers as a precautionary measure.

There was no trouble of any nature during the evening.

RECREIO WIN LAST GAME

IN C DIVISION

LEAGUE TABLE TO DATE

Five clubs have now completed their fixtures in the "C" Division of the Tennis League, and there remains only eleven games outstanding before the close of the season.

Two clubs have finished their programme in the "A" Division leaving five matches outstanding, and in the "B" Division there are eight remaining games to be played, four teams having finished their fixtures.

Although no official closing date has yet been announced it is anticipated that it will be about the middle of next month, and this should afford all teams ample time to complete their outstanding games.

RECREIO'S LAST MATCH.

Kowloon Dock went a step nearer to completing their programme in the "C" Division of the tennis league this week, when they met the Recreio at King's Park.

The Recreio won after an interesting game by six sets to three. Kowloon Dock continued to show marked improvement, with Millard and Tillery winning two sets.

Scores: J. L. Xavier and M. A. Oliveira (Recreio) beat J. B. Sturgeon and G. H. White 6-0; beat V. M. Haast and A. Duncann 6-4; lost to C. Millard and V. Tillery 3-6.

V. Yvanovich and A. A. Remedios (Recreio) beat Sturgeon and White 6-1; lost to Haast and Duncann 5-7; beat Millard and Tillery 6-3.

C. E. Xavier and A. M. Silva (Recreio) beat Sturgeon and White 6-1; beat Haast and Duncann 6-1; lost to Millard and Tillery 1-6.

Bid For World's Golf Championship

THREE COMPETITORS

New York, August 24.
By reason of his victory in the professional golfers' championship, Gene Sarazen, former American and British open golf champion, is assured of a tilt at the world's championship, of which he is the holder.

This championship, the winner of which in American eyes becomes champion of the world, is staged between the winners of the three great championships of the year, the American Open, the British Open, and the American P.G.A. Championship.

Last year Sarazen, as winner of two of them had only one opponent, Olin Dutra, the P.G.A. champion and a member of this year's American Ryder Cup team. Sarazen won the 72-hole match easily by 11 and 10, playing miraculous golf.

This year's contest will be fought out on the Miami Biltmore Course, Miami, Florida, between Sarazen and Densmore Shute, British Open champion, and Johnny Goodman, the amateur who won the American Open. Thus an amateur has a chance to become, according to America, the golf champion of the world.

The South China swimming championships, which will be participated in by leading Chinese swimming clubs have been postponed until Thursday and Friday next week. They will be held at the South China Athletic Association bathing pavilion.

PHILIPPINE SWIMMING RECORD BROKEN

OLYMPIC COMPETITORS BEATEN IN MANILA

WONDERFUL DISPLAY BY LOCALS

Manila, Sept. 16.
Christiansen's record breaking performance in the 100 metre back stroke and the defeat of Yldefonso and Jikirim in the 200 metre breast stroke were the high lights in yesterday's open swimming championships conducted by the P.A.A.F. in the Rizal Natatorium.

Christiansen cracked the Philippine record for the 100 metre back stroke by negotiating the distance in 1 minute and 16 seconds. The old record was 1 minute 16.2 seconds by Tahil.

Yldefonso, who placed third in the 200 metre breast stroke event in the world's olympic games in Los Angeles and Jikirim, fifth place winner in the same competition were both beaten yesterday afternoon by Arasad of the University of the Philippines.

In the first trial heat of the 200 metre breast stroke Yldefonso beat the U. P. stroker, who placed only second. Jikirim won first in his heat.

In the finals, however, Arasad showed class and after fighting neck and neck with the McKinley tankers he forged into the lead and beat Yldefonso in the last lap. Jikirim came in third.

Monar captured the 1500 metre free style swim, while Ali of Sto. Tomas University romped away with the 100 metre free style.

The complete results follow:—
1500 metre free style: (Final)
—Monar, McKinley, first; Allan, Harrison Park, second; Suetos, McKinley, third; Topacio, U. P., fourth. Time: 24 minutes and 33.3 seconds.

200 metre breast stroke: (Final) first, heat—Yldefonso, McKinley, first; Arasad, U. P., second; Natividad, Sto. Tomas, third; Barton, McKinley, fourth. Time: 2 minutes and 55.2 seconds. Second heat—Jikirim, McKinley, first; Cavistani, U. S. T., second; Garcia, La Salle, third; Bartolazo, McKinley, fourth. Time: 3 minutes and 1.2 seconds.

200 metre breast stroke: (Final)
—Arasad, U. P., first; Yldefonso, McKinley, second; Jikirim, McKinley, third; Cavistani, Sto. Tomas, fourth. Time: 2 minutes and 58.3 seconds.

100 metre free style: (Final)—Ali, Sto. Tomas, first; De Guzman, San Beda College, second; Baugh, U. S. T., third; Loteyro, San Beda, fourth. Time: 1 minute and 4 seconds.

100 metre back stroke: (First heat)—Christiansen, Sto. Tomas, first; Saranglao, Harrison Park, second; Francisco, La Salle, third; Ocampo, Arellano, fourth. Time: 1 minute and 16 seconds. (Second heat)—Bugarin, Sto. Tomas, first; Sanlack, McKinley, second; Cooper, Central School, third; Gamboa, La Salle, fourth. Time: 1 minute and 19 seconds.

100 metre back stroke: (Final)—Christiansen, Sto. Tomas, first; Bugarin, Sto. Tomas, second; Saranglao, Harrison Park, third; Francisco, La Salle, fourth. Time: 1 minute and 16 seconds. (New Philippine record, the old record was 1 minute and 16.2 seconds by Tahil.)

The next open meet will be held on October 15. Both for men and ladies. The events for men are: 200 metre free style, 100 metre back stroke, 200 metre breast stroke, 800 metre free style.

The events for ladies are: 50 metre free style, 200 metre free style, 50 metre breast stroke, 100 metre back stroke.

WORLD SERIES OCTOBER 3

PROGRAMME ALL MAPPED OUT

Representatives of the National and American Leagues have decided that the 1933 baseball World Series will start at the home city of the winning National League club on October 3.

The teams to clash in the world championship series are the New York Giants of the senior loop and almost certainly the Washington Senators of the junior circuit.

As Bill Terry and his Giants have won the National League pennant, the series will start at the Polo Grounds. After the first two games the series will shift to Washington.

The next three games will be played in Washington. If the series remains indecisive after that, it will be shifted back to New York.

A team must win four out of a series of seven games to decide the world championship.

The Senators, under the management of youthful Joe Cronin, will win the American League pennant, unless a slump of the worst kind befalls them.

Eight more days of play remain before the 1933 season ends.

REPRISALS!

Aussies' Bodyline Bowling In Charity Cricket

From Tunbridge Wells, the inland spa of Kent, where they will tell you, the aged retire to die in peace and quietness, comes reports of an invasion of bodyline bowling by none other than Australian cricketers.

In a charity match on behalf of local hospitals, in which a Tunbridge Wells representative team met an eleven composed of Australian born players, the following incidents, according to the local press occurred:

"The wet had its effect, though, and the ball rose somewhat alarmingly, especially from Cussen's (Australian) deliveries. He seemed to be bowling in the style of bodyline, too, by the way the batsmen were hit, and had plenty of slips. Hillier took his place, and the very first ball he received from Cussen struck him on the head, and he collapsed."

Layton last year (Sutcliffe 318, Holmes 224 not out). He was told his fate early to enable him to get a league or coaching engagement. There ought to be no lack of offers.

Hendren, who is still at the top of his form this season, has played for England in Australia, South Africa and the West Indies as well as in England, and has scored hundreds in test matches against all of them. He made the highest score of his career this season—301 not out against Worcester at Dudley. Twice, in 1923 and 1928, he has made more than 5,000 runs in a season.

C.S.C.C. MEETING.

Membership To Become Traditional.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

A tribute of respect to the memory of the late Sir Claud Severn, who was President of the Hongkong Civil Service Cricket Club from 1921 to 1925, was paid by His Honour Mr. Justice J. R. Wood, when presiding at the annual meeting of the C.S.C.C. yesterday evening.

"His enthusiasm for the Club and his good fellowship to all members many of us will remember," said Mr. Justice Wood.

By acclamation, the Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Director of Public Works, was elected a Vice-President. The Chairman said the election was not because of Mr. Henderson's official capacity in the Service but because of his long connexion with and loyal support of the Club.

The Chairman referred with regret to the deaths during the past year of Messrs. S. A. Roberts, J. Shand, H. Coombs, F. B. Holdman and Sir Claud Severn.

The Club's accounts were satisfactory and thanks were due to Mr. J. A. Bendall (Hon. Treasurer) and the auditors. He had pleasure in welcoming back from leave Mr. A. O. Brown, Chairman of the General Committee.

The Club had not gone in for vulgar success. (Laughter). In cricket, the first eleven did not do too well, but the second eleven had "enjoyed themselves." The report was too early to include the lawn bowls section which would have shown that the team nearly triumphed in the premier division.

The Report and Statement of Accounts was seconded by Mr. R. M. Wood and carried unanimously.

The Chairman, referring to certain additions and amendments to rules said the resolution (which was carried) enabled Civil Servants, who are not interested in sports, to take some interest in the social amenities afforded. He also expressed the hope that such members would interest their families in the club for similar purposes.

"The principal hope of your Committee is that it will make membership of the Club a tradition in the Service," concluded his Honour.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the out-going committee for their faithful work and this met with applause.

Before the meeting closed, Mr. Brown proposed the thanks of the meeting to Mr. Justice Wood, not only for taking the chair, but for his "keen, practical and continued interest in the Club." (Applause).

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected:—Cricket 1st XI Captain, Mr. J. E. Richardson; Vice-captain, Mr. B. C. K. Hawkins; 2nd XI Captain, Mr. J. F. McGowan; Vice-captain, Mr. H. Edmonds.

General Committee—Chairman, Mr. A. O. Brown; Cricket Representative, Mr. J. F. McGowan; Tennis Representative, Mr. W. Old; Lawn Bowls Representative, Mr. F. J. Jones; Grounds, Mr. A. W. Grimmett; Hon. Bar Convenor, Mr. S. Eccleshall; Hon. Librarian, Mr. W. J. Lockhart; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Bendall; Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Deakin; and Messrs. J. Barrow, S. Alderman, H. Edmonds.

ARMY SWIMMING.

Results Of Heats For To-day's Programme.

KEEN RIVALRY EXPECTED.

Keen competition in to-day's Army aquatics at the Victoria Recreation Club is promised by the performances of heat winners yesterday.

The Hongkong Area Aquatic Sports is an annual event and provides some of the best swimming to be seen in the Colony. The times registered yesterday for the heats were not exceptional but that cannot be taken as an indication that records will not be broken to-day.

Early yesterday afternoon the heats were delayed until 4 p.m. but from the diving and an Inter-Brigade, Small Units and Battalion Relay Race, which will be decided to-day, all the finalists in to-day's programme are known.

Their names are given below following the number of the heat in which they contested. Where two names are given for one heat, both were admitted to the finals.

How Do You Sleep These Nights

837 COILS—each in an individual muslin pocket—give instantaneous adjustment to the slightest movement. No other mattress has the same construction as the BEAUTY-REST.

Sleep as You Have Never Slept on SIMMONS Beautyrest

A good night's rest brings you a mysterious glowing something no beauty aids can match. Takes away every trace of fatigue from a woman's face.

But—a night of only part-way resting sleep leaves on your face lines you cannot hide.

Science says that really rejuvenating sleep comes only when every nerve and muscle can relax.

A lumpy mattress or a sagging one cannot give it to you. You may not realize the difference. But surely and steadily that difference is being written on your face.

There is a mattress that gives you this deep rejuvenating sleep—the SIMMONS BEAUTYREST.

All through this famous mattress are tiny coils of finely tempered steel, 837 of them. Each in its individual muslin pocket. They buoy you up. You feel no restriction. You can turn in your sleep without knowing it! Every inch of you gets gloriously relaxed!

Don't let another day go by without your seeing this famous mattress.

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

"The Story of Temple Drake," latest Paramount picture, which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre and featuring Miriam Hopkins and Jack LaRue, contains one of the outstanding screen portrayals of the current season.

Miss Hopkins delivers a perfect interpretation of the role of this heroine of William Faulkner's sensational novel with her curious combination of conventional traits and reckless abandon.

Following her unusually successful roles in such hits as "Smiling Lieutenant," "Twenty-four Hours," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and "Trouble in Paradise," Miss Hopkins gives another superb performance in this picture, aided immeasurably by Jack LaRue in the much-disputed role of "Trizer," the man who knows what he wants and usually gets it.

William Gargan is excellent as Stephen Benbow, the young lawyer, whose love Temple Drake refuses that she may not ruin his life, and you'll like too, William Collier, Jr., in the role of Toddy Gowan, the wild youngster with whom Temple Drake runs away after she has refused to marry Benbow. Irving Pichel is excellent in the role of the moon-shiner at whose place Temple and Gowan take refuge after an auto wreck, and Sir Guy Standing gives a sympathetic interpretation of the distinguished Judge Drake.

A queer complex character, victim of an inherited streak of recklessness that has brought all of its possessors to the gutter, Temple Drake survives by magnificent atonement. A thrilling climax caps this story of the most tempestuous.

"Cavalcade"

"Cavalcade" is a picture you cannot afford to miss, showing to-day at the King's Theatre.

Noel Coward chose a daring theme and the daring of the producer was even greater in presenting it. That such daring was amply justified however, was proved by the enthusiasm of those who saw it. The picture "Cavalcade" is one of the greatest ever to come to the screen.

The cast, headed by Diana Wynyard and Clive Brook, is magnificent. Miss Wynyard especially contributing an excellent performance in her role as Jane Marryot.

Herbert Mundin, Una O'Connor, Ursula Jenks, Frank Lawton, Beryl Mercer, Irene Browne, Merle Tottenham, John Warburton, Margaret Lindsay are perfectly cast in colourful roles.

Frank Lloyd's direction is magnificent and the photography by Ernest Palmer leaves nothing to be desired.

We nominate "Cavalcade" as the best of the "best pictures of the year" for many years past and many to come.

"The White Sister"

Two of the greatest personalities on the American screen are co-starred for the first time in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's talking picture adaptation of F. Marion Crawford's classic love story, "The White Sister," which comes on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre. They are Helen Hayes, winner of the recent Motion Picture Academy award, and Clark Gable, universally conceded idol.

Miss Hayes, last seen as the nurse in "A Farewell to Arms," this time plays the role of an aristocratic Italian girl who on the eve of her wedding to a man of her father's choice, falls in love with a young officer in the Italian air force. A clandestine romance results and the father, in a desperate attempt to call a halt to the proceedings, is involved in an automobile smashup and dies. When the young officer subsequently is called to the front and is reported killed, the girl determines to abandon the world and to shut herself up in a convent as a White Sister.

The intensely dramatic climax of the story occurs when the officer returns from the war and confronts the nun who had believed him to be no longer alive. The situation is said to be the most stirring ever enacted by the talented Miss Hayes, outshining even her memorable portrayal in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet." The remainder of the drama revolves about the conflict of the girl between her religious vows and the man whom she loves, with the story brought to an end by a sensational denouement.

Lewis Stone, who supported Miss Hayes in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," is cast in another strong character role as the father in "The White Sister." Other important players include Louise Closser Hale, May Robson, Edward Arnold, and Alan Edwards. The picture was

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repaying study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme.

The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of—

NATIONAL ECONOMIC COUNCIL.

FUNCTIONS REFERRED TO LEGISLATIVE YUAN

Nanking, Sept. 20.
The Central Political Council this morning approved the regulations governing the organization and functions of the National Economic Council, which regulations have been referred to the Legislative Yuan for examination.

It is understood that the draft regulations include ten articles. The functions of the Council include, firstly, the examination of proposals and plans concerning national economic construction and development projects; secondly, the examination, as well as the fixing, of funds for economic construction and development projects, and, thirdly, direct supervision, as well as execution, of national economic construction and development plans and projects already decided upon. —Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

I am wondering if my readers give sufficient thought and consideration to the "timing factor." We know that the timing factor plays an important part in football, baseball and tennis, and it plays just as important a part in bridge. A hand which explains this timing factor in a simple manner is given below. In addition to the timing factor element, the hand is also interesting from a bidding angle.

The Bidding

The hand was played in the recent national championship tournament at Asbury Park, N.J. The majority of East and West players secured the contract for game in hearts. However, the bidding at one table was rather interesting and was as follows:

South and West passed. North made a weak third bid of one club. East overcalled with one heart. South bid one spade and West jumped to three hearts.

North had made an original psychic opening bid and decided, as he was not vulnerable, to carry his psychic through. He jumped the contract to four spades. East felt that North and South were trying to deprive him of a game, so went to five hearts, which South doubled.

The Play

It was South's opening lead, and when a contract is being played at five or six, we know that the opening lead determines the success or failure of the contract.

Let us take the suits in turn. South had bid spades and this suit had been supported by North. However, in spite of the spade bid, East had gone to five hearts, therefore the spades should be a bad lead.

Naturally South could not open hearts. To open diamonds looked as though he were sacrificing a trick, therefore South should reason as follows:

His partner may hold the ace of clubs and the ace of spades. However, supposing that he does hold the ace of spades and only the queen and ten of clubs—then if a spade is opened his partner's ace will be knocked out and the declarer will probably make his contract, while if a club is opened, he can establish a club trick, get in with the king of hearts and then lead a spade which will put his partner in with the ace.

Of course when he does lead a club, he finds a more fortunate situation—his partner holds the ace of clubs which is immediately cashed, while South makes the king of clubs and the king of hearts, defeating the contract.

HUNDREDS DEAD

PLAGUE RAGING IN MANCHURIA

Dairen, Sept. 20.
The whole of Manchuria is united in a three line defence against the southward sweep of bubonic and pneumonic plague at present raging north of Supingkai, and claiming hundreds of lives.
The first defence is confined to fighting the plague in districts known to be infected. The second main defence extends to Cheng-chiatun on the Liao River, midway between Mukden and Hsinking, and the third and last check is at Supingkai.
The Kwangtung Government, the South Manchurian Railway, the Japanese Embassy, Manchuko, the North Manchurian Railway and the U.S.S.R. are sparing no expense in maintaining rigorous inspection of all travellers.
Other anti-plague activities include the establishment of isolation houses, the disinfecting of Manchu bath houses, a wholesale war on rats and the suspension of river traffic.
The last epidemic occurred in 1928 when 1,200 died.—Reuter.

WANTED IN NORTH.

HUANG FU'S DEPARTURE DELAYED

Shanghai, Sept. 20.
Although his presence in North China is urgently required, no date for General Huang Fu's departure has yet been fixed, says the Shun Pao.

The newspaper adds that General Huang failed to reach a complete understanding with the Government concerning financial and diplomatic affairs in North China, and will not return until a settlement is reached.—Reuter.

U.S. RECOVERY

IMPEDED BY MANY STRIKES

Washington, Sept. 20.
Widespread strikes involving 90,000 workers in various industries in New York, Philadelphia, and New Jersey are worrying President Roosevelt and his assistants in the National Recovery Drive.

These strikes involve a serious impairment of purchasing power when it is most needed to speed up business and re-employment.

An uncertain factor is whether President Roosevelt will use inflation to increase purchasing power.

Conflict of public opinion is disclosed on this point.

Mr. Henry Harriman, President of the U.S.A. Chambers of Commerce is of the opinion that President Roosevelt does not want money inflation but credit inflation, which he regards as being very sound.

Arrangements have already been made for commencing the construction of 37 warships, including four 10,000 ton cruisers, and involving an expenditure of $47,000,000.

Fears that this three year building programme might provoke a naval construction race in other countries were described as unjustified by Mr. H. L. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Department, in a broadcast speech.—Reuter.

PERSONAL MATTER

VATICAN REPLY TO PRAGUE REQUEST

Rome, Sept. 20.
The Vatican has met the Czechoslovakian request for the recall of the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Ciriacci, with the decision not to intervene in the matter, giving the opinion that the question is insignificant and should be settled personally between the Papal Nuncio and Czechoslovakian Government.—Reuter.

The trouble between the Papal Nuncio and the Government arose when Mgr. Ciriacci wrote to the leader of the Slovak Popular Party, complaining that he had been insulted in Prague.

The non-Catholic Press, following the publication of the letter accused the Nuncio of interfering in the internal affairs of the country and of attempting to incite the Slovaks to separate from the rest of the community.

The Cabinet censured the letter and decided to request the recall of Mgr. Ciriacci.

SHANGHAI TYPHOON.

WOOSUNG COTTON
PARTIALLY DESTROYED

Shanghai, Sept. 20.
Sections of the dykes protecting the sea coast at Woosung collapsed during the typhoon on Monday night, leading to the destruction of 60 per cent of the cotton crop between Woosung and Paoshan, four miles distant, according to Chinese reports.

The reports add that there was no loss of life, and the dykes are being sandbagged pending repairs by the Kiangsu Provincial Government.—Reuter.

DOLLEFUSS STAGES DRAMATIC COUP D'ETAT

Assumes Dictatorship in An Anti-Nazi Fascist Regime

A poster of Dr. Dollfuss in Vienna, defaced by political opponent.

HEAD OF ALL THE ARMED FORCES

AUSTRIA'S STRONG MAN AS VICE-CHANCELLOR

CAPITULATION TO HEIMWEHR

Vienna, Sept. 21.

The dramatic events in the last six or seven hours, commencing with the midnight communique announcing the assumption of dictatorship by Dr. Dollfuss, are being interpreted freely as an indication that the Chancellor has almost completely capitulated to the Heimwehr.

The new government will almost certainly be organised on Fascist lines and is likely to be pro-Italian.

ANTI-NAZI.

It will be in the curious position of being Pro-Fascist and Anti-Nazi. It will certainly be opposed by the Nazis and the Socialists, and it is pointed out that the Heimwehr cannot feel at all sure of anything like a wide popular following in the country.

END OF PARLIAMENT.

The statement issued at the same time declaring that all members of the Cabinet who were also members of Parliament would be required to resign their mandates, is clear indication that Austria has ended Parliamentary government.

BIG MINE-LAYER JOINING CHINA SQUADRON

H.M.S. ADVENTURE COMING OUT

The British minelayer, H.M.S. Adventure is to join the China Fleet, and will arrive here in February next.

The Adventure was laid down under the 1922-23 Estimates at the Devonport Yard on November 29, 1922, completed in 1928 and commissioned in May the following year. The vessel was the design of Sir E. H. Tennyson, D.S.O., and is an experimental type, combining the characteristics of a minelayer with those of a light cruiser. The hull is flush-decked, with a marked sheer forward, and the stern curiously flat, without a counter, a new departure for the minelayer. There are four large mine-dropping ports in it. Weight has been saved by the sacrifice of armament and ammunition supply, thus giving increased capacity for mines of a new and enlarged pattern. There are two pairs of derricks, abreast the bridge and mainmast respectively.

The Adventure has a "Standard" displacement of 6,740 tons and a normal displacement of 7,260 tons. Her overall measurement is 520 feet with a beam, over bulges, of 59 feet. The mean draught is 19 1/2 feet.

When built, the Adventure was experimentally fitted with eight pom-poms on a single mounting, with distinct firing position, on the forward shelter deck. These were removed in 1930. She is now served by four 4.7 inch A.A. guns, four 3-pounders and twelve machine guns. The A.A. weapons proved such a success that they are to be adopted in the Fleet generally. In addition she carries 320 mines of an improved pattern.

A novel feature in the Adventure is the Diesel engines for cruising with an electric drive. The results of this type of engines are stated to have encouraged the use of Diesel engines for the propulsion of the H.M.S. Midway which is at present on the China Station.

She is designed with an S.L.P. of 40,000 equivalent to 27.75 knots.

LOCAL FORMATION OF R.N.V.R.

Meeting To Be Held Next Week

A meeting of members of the Yacht Club who are interested in the formation of the proposed Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve has been called by Mr. A. L. Shields, the Commodore.

The nature of the organisation will be explained and members and other interested persons will have an opportunity to ask questions. The meeting is to be held on Thursday next.

REICHSTAG SHADOW TRIAL

COMMUNISTS HELD NOT GUILTY NAZI LEADERS ACCUSED

London, Sept. 20.

The Communists were exonerated from the charges of incendiarism in the "Reichstag fire shadow trial," held by the International Legal Commission in London.

They issued lengthy findings today in which they conclude that the accused, Torgler, Dimitoff, Popoff and Tanneff, were not concerned directly or indirectly with the Reichstag fire.

Their findings add that there are grave grounds existing to suspect that the Reichstag was set on fire on behalf of leading Nazi personalities.

The Commission found that the fifth accused, Vandergubbe, was an anti-Communist, who could not have committed the crime alone.

LEIPZIG STATEMENT.

Leipzig, Sept. 20.

On the eve of the opening of the great Reichstag fire trial, Dr. Parrissius, who organised the evidence for the prosecution, issued a statement to the press indicating the proposals of the prosecution.

He indicated that only Vandergubbe would be specifically charged with incendiarism, while Torgler, the Communist leader and the three Bulgarian accused, would be charged with high treason, of which the Reichstag fire was only part.

FOUR FIRES.

Vandergubbe would be accused of incendiarism in four cases, namely, the Reichstag, the City Hall, the ex-Imperial Palace and

CUBAN REBELS SURROUNDED

SITUATION STILL TENSE: MORE DESTROYERS SENT

Havana, Sept. 20.

It is officially confirmed by the Government that the rebel force under Captain Blas Hernandez has been surrounded by Government troops in Camaguey Province.

It is learned that the Englishman, Hughes, who was reported to be a prisoner in the mill of which he is the manager, is in no immediate danger.

The besiegers of his mill have now departed.

Meanwhile, the situation is not growing any better. The Revolutionary Junta has not announced a decision regarding the resignation of President Grau San Martin, and the information reaching Washington has resulted in orders from the U.S. Navy Department for four more destroyers to proceed from Guantanamo to troubled spots in Cuba.—Reuter.

MARLEY OUT OF LUCK

ASKS ADVICE OF HEADQUARTERS MAY RETURN TO ENGLAND.

Shanghai, Sept. 21.

The possibility of Lord Marley and the other delegates to the projected Anti-War Conference being compelled to return to whence they came, looms as a result of their failure to obtain permission to hold the Congress here.

It is learned that the delegates intend to cable to the headquarters of the World Committee against War in Paris for instructions, and it is expected that the answer will be to return home.

Hitherto no reply has been received from the Chinese Government to the delegates' request for sanction to hold the Conference in Chinese territory.—Reuter.

PRES. ROOSEVELT UNWELL

the Berlin Welfare Office.

Dr. Parrissius emphasised that full publicity would be given to the proceedings.

"We have nothing to conceal. We desire that truth and justice shall prevail."

Eighty-one foreign pressmen will be among the 123 journalists in court. The trial will be gramophone-recorded and the important passages will be broadcast.

Dr. Stomps, the Dutch counsel commissioned to defend Vandergubbe, will not be admitted into court.—Reuter.

ROOSEVELT OVERRIDES THE CRITICS

Determined to Go On With Navy Programme

Washington, Sept. 20.

President Roosevelt intends proceeding without restriction in building up the American Navy to treaty limits.

The programme involves the expenditure of $47,000,000 on 37 warships, including four 10,000 ton cruisers, arrangements for the commencement of which have already been made.

STILL BELOW STRENGTH.

The President announced that the contracts already let out, will, under no circumstances, be recalled.

It is pointed out by naval officials that the building programme will still leave the United States 100 ships below the authorised strength of 1936.—Reuter.

T. V. SOONG GOING TO PEKING

URGENT FINANCIAL PROBLEMS

Shanghai, Sept. 21.

The China Press quotes a Chinese telegram from Peking, stating that Mr. T. V. Soong is planning to visit Peking in view of the urgent financial problems in North China.—Reuter.

REDS IN RETREAT

OFFICIAL FUKIEN CLAIMS

Foochow, Sept. 21.

According to an official communique, the "Red" forces in north-western Fukien are continuing their retreat towards the western border under the pressure of pursuit by Government troops. The main body of "Reds" have fallen back on Shao-wu from Shun-chung and surrounding districts.—Central News Agency.

A NEW WAR THREAT

FANG'S TROOPS IN MIYUN AREA

CONCERN IN NORTH CHINA

Peking, Sept. 21.

Some concern is felt about the activities of troops belonging to General Fan Chen-wu, the former adherent of Marshal Feng Yuxiang, there being a fear that complications with the Japanese may result.

It is officially reported, says Reuter, that a body of six hundred of these troops entered the town of Huailu, near Miyun, in the demilitarised zone.

The local authorities regard them in the light of armed bandits, but owing to the Tangku Truce they are unable to send in troops to remove the menace.

Concern is deeper because there have lately been several incidents giving rise to threats of renewed Sino-Japanese hostilities in the north as a result of disputes over the administration of the neutral zone between Manchukuo and China.

The military attaché of the Japanese legation recently warned that "drastic measures" would be taken against China unless Chinese troops are withdrawn from the Miyun area.

The Japanese assert that General Soong Chih-yuan's forces there have violated the Tangku truce.

AFTER BANDITS.

General Ho Ying-ching said the troops were suppressing bandits, and their presence was justified on that score.

The Japanese attaché, Colonel Shibayama, confirmed reports that Japanese airplanes flew over Kalgan and threatened to drop bombs on the city unless the Chinese withdrew.

Ho Ying-ching protested against the bomb threat.

The administration of the neutral zone has provided a problem.

Under the terms of the Tangku truce, China may not send troops into the area between the Great Wall and a defined line running across the country from a point north of Peiping to north of Tientsin.

FORCE MODERATE.

Japanese troops have withdrawn from this area, leaving only a small Chinese police force which is inadequate to cope with banditry, which has been growing more and more serious.

It is estimated that some 20,000 bandits are at large in the neutral area.

The Chinese say the situation is becoming intolerable. Some Chinese allege that the Japanese are willing to see conditions as they are, as it will give them an excuse for further military penetration into China.

MR. HIROTA'S POLICY

DIPLOMATIC POST RESHUFFLING

Tokyo, Sept. 21.

It is authoritatively learned that the prospect of the resumption of the Russo-Manchukuo Conference for the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway is brighter following Mr. Hirota's assumption of the Japanese foreign ministry. He is thought likely to make an effort to reconcile the differences of opinion on the price issue.

Mr. Hirota will also reshuffle a number of diplomats in Europe and America.—Central News Agency.

H.M.S. EAGLE: NAVY DAY PLANS

DESTROYER TRIP FOR CHOSEN FEW

We understand that H.M.S. Eagle will be arriving in the Colony either on October 27 or 28 and that she, together with her planes, will participate in the Navy Day celebrations.

The programme is as yet indefinite but it is believed that a number of prominent residents will be taken out to her by destroyer as she approaches Hongkong to view the take off and landing of planes. The Eagle will then be brought alongside and thrown open to the public.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

AN OLD IDEA IN MODERN GUISE

LEG-O-MUTTON SLEEVES GIVE MESS JACKET CHARM

No wardrobe is complete without at least one little mess jacket of linen or pique. They're the newest note for cocktail parties. A smartly styled pique mess jacket, such as Muriel Kirkland is shown wearing here, has full leg-o-mutton sleeves, wide lapels and a four-button closing. You can wear it over your evening frock, as well as on the street and with afternoon clothes.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Wear Gloves For Nail Protection.

By Alicia Hart

If you want your fingernails to look fresh and dainty to complement your light summer clothes, you'll have to give them a little added attention.

Nails become more brittle in the summer time. This is due, of course, to the fact that you are apt to go without gloves more often. But wear gloves as much as you can. Cotton, washable ones, aren't really so uncomfortable once you get into the habit of wearing them.

Cuticle which has a tendency to get hard and rough should be rubbed with olive oil or cocoa butter each night before you go to bed. Leave it on all night. You'll be surprised at the results of this simple treatment.

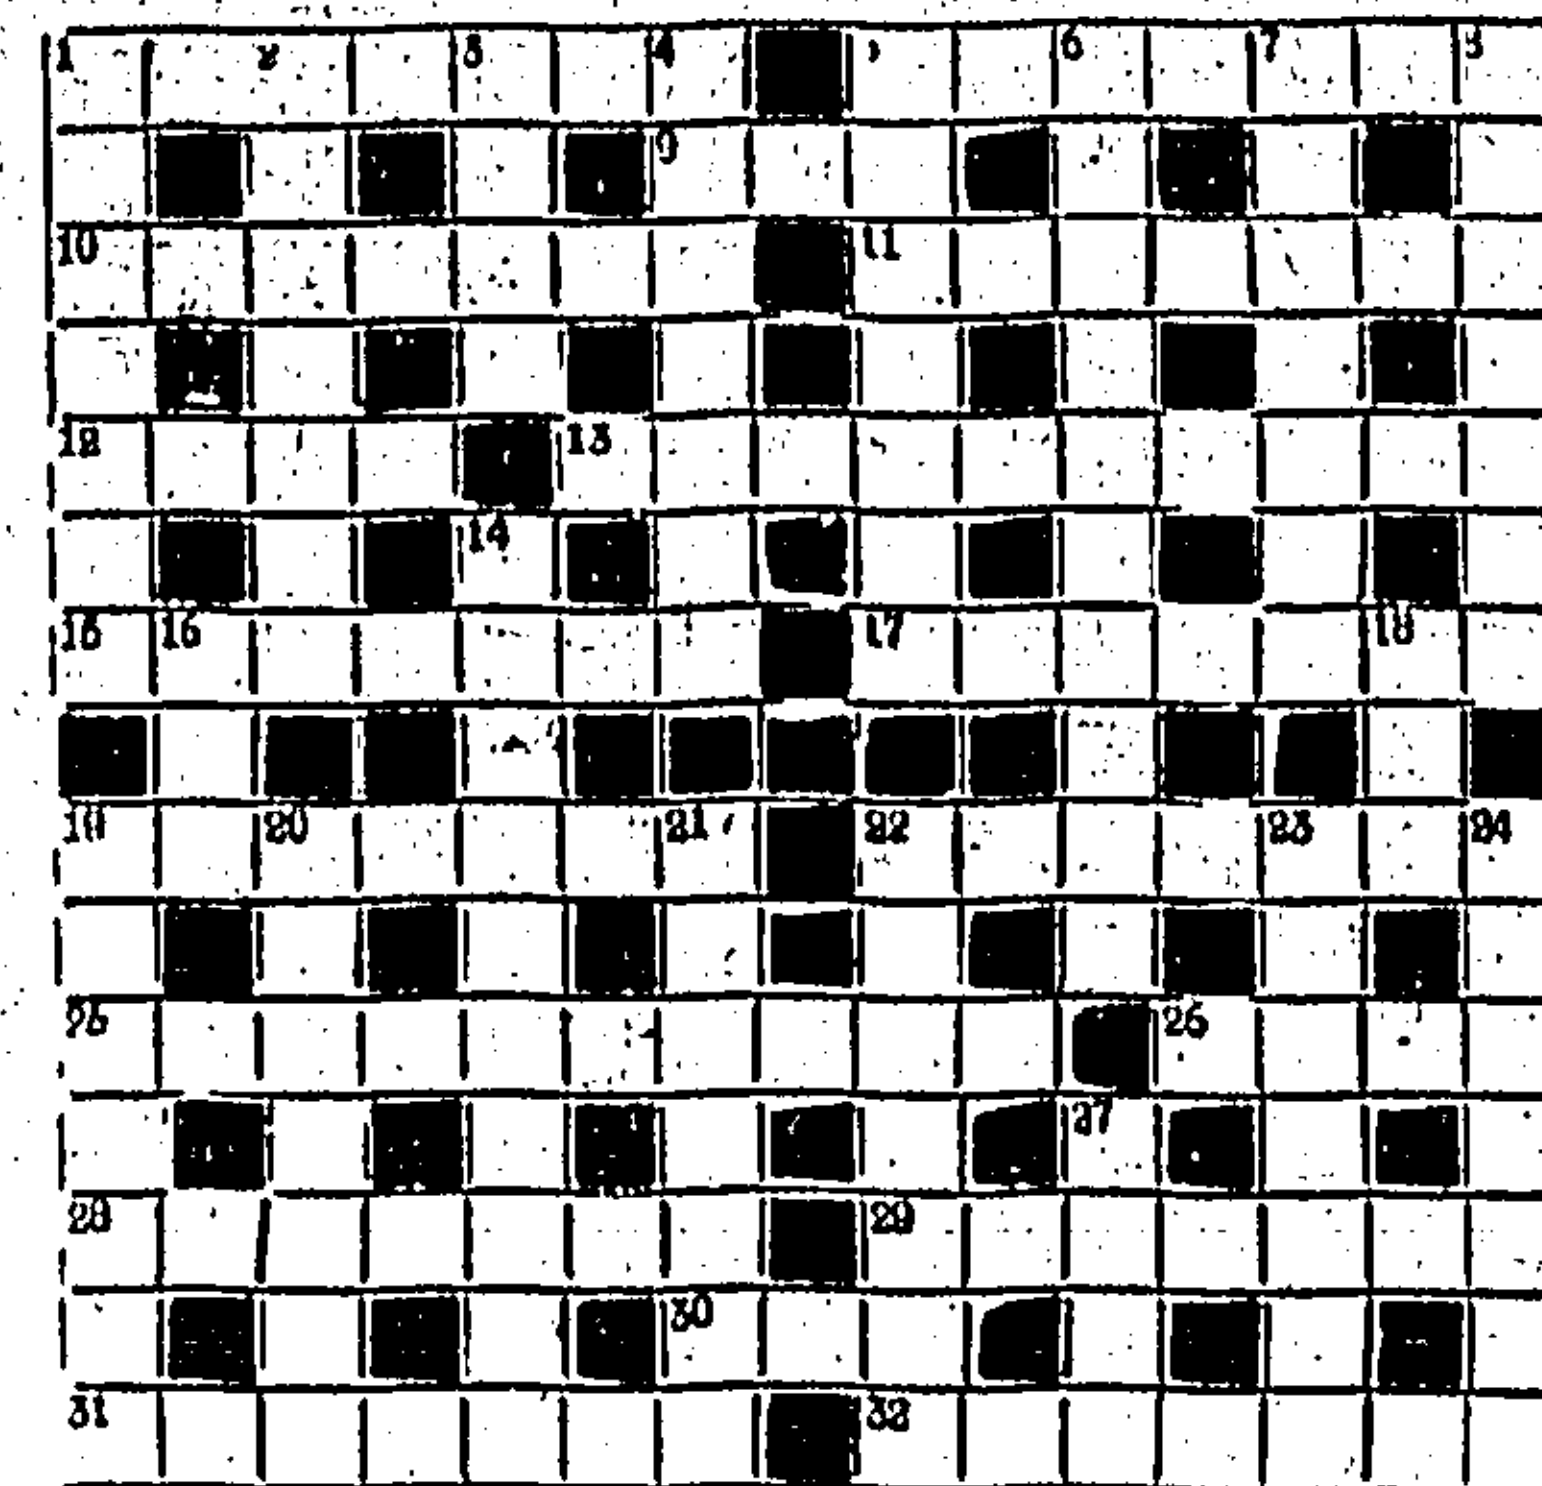

Your hands need washing oftener in summer. And do use a nail brush. It will go far toward removing grime and dirt which doesn't come easily with soap and water. Be sure and push back the cuticle when you dry your hands. If you're an ardent bench bather remember that salt water and beach sands will raise havoc with your nails if you don't take a few precautions. It is an excellent idea to carry a small orange stick in the pocket of your beach pajamas. Use it often to keep your hands looking neat.

Keep your nails shorter if you are vacationing in a camp or near a beach. The chances are ten to one that you'll break long ones. Anyway, shorter nails are easier to keep clean.

Neutral or colourless polish is best with delicate summer clothes. Leave the harsh pinks and reds unworn when your gowns are more sophisticated.

Look at my

Only 3 Days Ago I Never Would Have Dreamed It Could Be So Lovely
My skin was yellow dark and faded. There were unsightly blackheads, rough skin scales and enlarged pores around my nose, chin and forehead. Today my skin is white smooth and beautiful complexion as carried and admired by all.
Any woman can now easily obtain soft and beautiful skin, simply by the daily use of Crème Tokalon. It contains purified dairy cream and olive oil combined with whitening, tonic and astringent ingredients. It instantly penetrates, soothes irritated skin glands, tightens enlarged pores, dissolves blackheads so that they fall away. Whitens and softens driest, rough skin. Gives indescribable new skin beauty and freshness in 3 days—such as can be obtained in no other way. It should be used every morning. 596

CHAPTER XXVII

Saturday evening Dick took Eve to dinner at a popular restaurant known as the Old Plantation. The atmosphere was that of the hospitable old south. Pretty mulatto girls, wearing bandanas and checked gingham dresses, served Maryland fried chicken and corn fritters. A string quartet played lively tunes and Eve soon found herself dancing with spirit.

Later they were joined by a group of Dick's business friends and she enjoyed the evening so much she was almost able to forget that Bixby's had lost $2,000 through a mistake in her department.

The next day she and Dick went for a long ride in the country. Office cares seemed far away and Eve arrived home tired and sleepy from being so long in the fresh air.

But Monday morning as she neared the office she began to feel nervous. Barnes would be back to-day and the dreaded interview must take place.

The advertising manager summoned her to his office at 9:30. Eve managed a tremulous smile as she entered but Barnes' face was grim, his voice crisp.

"I scarcely need tell you, Mrs. Rader," he began, "that the price error in Saturday's contract advertisement was the worst of the kind the store has ever had. I am amazed that you should have permitted such a blunder."

Eve started to speak but he silenced her with a curt gesture. "It is one of the things that simply cannot be explained away or smoothed over," he continued.

Eve was determined to explain. She had decided to tell of Mona's treachery even at the risk of being considered "catty."

"But you don't understand—I" she began.

"I understand the result of the mistake and results are what count in this department," he went on.

"I feared your marriage would interfere with your interest in your work here. All I have to say now is—don't let anything of the sort happen again!" There was a grim threat in the words.

Furious that he had not permitted her to defend herself, Eve returned to her desk. Mona had scored against her at every point.

Eve was tempted to go to Mr. Bixby about the affair; tempted, too, to resign. But she knew that was exactly what Mona had hoped might happen and therefore it was the one thing Eve determined not to do.

At 10:30 a rosy-cheeked little woman with a youthful face and graying hair appeared and asked for Mr. Barnes. Arlene escorted her to his office.

A few moments later the buzzer sounded for Eve and she was introduced to the newcomer. "This is Mrs. Penney," said Barnes.

"She will take Miss Vlad's place." Eve took the new artist into the outer office and introduced her to the rest of the advertising staff and to her new duties.

"At first I felt sorry for her," Eve told Dick that night, "but after she began to work I knew why Barnes had hired her. That woman has genius!"

Mrs. Penney adjusted herself easily to the office routine and Eve blessed her for that. With things running smoothly again, Barnes resumed a more pleasant attitude toward his co-workers and the tension was lifted.

Apparently mild and yielding, Mrs. Penney proved to be firm and self-reliant to a surprising degree. Even Mona, who usually found some means of gaining her own ends in such matters, could neither outwit nor wheedle Mrs. Penney into taking care of minor details of office routine which were Mona's responsibility or exchanging lunch periods to suit Mona's whims.

Mrs. Penney was a widow with a young daughter who was in college. Every stroke of the artist's pencil was for the sole object of assuring her daughter's education. Mrs. Penney worked swiftly and untiringly eight hours a day—longer when necessary. But she managed to turn out smart, finished drawings at a speed which usually enabled her to leave the office promptly at closing time.

Eve, looking ahead, felt that Mrs. Penney would be very helpful in putting the office routine on a prompt and efficient basis whenever the time came that Barnes should leave and Eve herself be in charge of the advertising office.

And then Eve's mother came to visit her. Kate Bayless made an inspection tour of the apartment, then shook her head and decided to spend the morning doing the things Eve found little time for.

Faintly she "died up" all the ruffled curtains and washed the delicate crocheted rugs. To Dick's delight, she discarded the "bachelor buttons" which Eve had been snapping on his clothes and replaced them with buttons sewed on firmly with heavy thread. She spent three mornings darning heels and toes and catching runners in hosiery. And she made orange marmalade and a supply of noodles calculated to last into the summer.

Every noon Kate met her daughter in the ladies' lounge at Bixby's. Here, while she waited, Kate sat at one of the desks and addressed postal cards to relatives, neighbors and friends at home. During luncheon Eve planned the afternoon's entertainment for her mother—usually either a shopping tour or a matinee. Later Dick would meet her and take her home in time to prepare an old-fashioned, appetizing dinner before Eve's arrival.

"Why, I could almost forget there is such a place as home," Kate said one day, "if it wasn't for worrying whether Pa is getting enough to eat and if he remembers to feed the canary! I'll bet my plants will be all dried up, too, for want of a little attention."

At the end of a week no amount of persuasion could keep her in Lake City any longer. "I've fixed you up a bit and that will give you a good start again," she told Eve. "I'd much rather you'd stay at home and not try to do too much. No good can come of it—and I'm worried about your nerves."

When the train pulled out of the station Eve and Dick, standing below, watched Kate smiling at them through the closed window. Eve's own eyes were blurred as she waved a last goodbye.

The week had passed so swiftly that her mother's departure had been unexpected. Eve regretted that she had not found time to take her mother to the stock exchange and the brokerage office.

"Mother gets such a kick out of seeing what makes the wheels go 'round and she's such a good sport that I like to show her new things," Eve told herself.

She was watching the activities of the market anxiously these days. Pure Soap, Inc., had fallen four points and then, following brisk selling, had resumed its former high and plunged ahead. This fluctuation caused a similar one in Eve's spirits. She looked at fellow passengers on the trolley with a new interest as she rode to the store each morning. She wondered if some of them were similarly concerned over the market news.

It did not occur to her that men and women might suffer huge financial loss and still maintain their bearings.

And then Pure Soap, Inc., reached the point Eve had been hoping for. Last it took another slump and hurried to the bank that noon and arranged to sell.

She felt rich as she figured her gain. After all, one had to pay some price for success and this had cost her only anxiety. She was eager for a new venture in finance.

Eve left the office that evening promptly as the closing gong sounded. Sam was waiting at the side entrance for Arlene and they offered to take Eve home. Thus it happened that she reached their apartment before Dick, who had been detained by some extra work.

Eve, still exulting over her financial gains, set light-heartedly to work to cook the dinner. It would be nice to surprise Dick by having the meal ready when he came. But scarcely had she started her preparations when the telephone rang.

There was a perceptible pause after Eve answered. She was almost certain she heard a sharp intake of breath at the other end of the line and then a girl's voice said, "Oh, I'm sorry! They must have given me the wrong number."

The voice was Mona Allen's. That she had been given the number of Eve's telephone by mistake was possible, of course, but a coincidence almost beyond Eve's credulity. What could it mean? Had Mona been telephoning to Dick? (To be Continued.)

U.S. RECOVERY

IMPEDED BY MANY STRIKES

Washington, Sept. 20.
Widespread strikes involving 90,000 workers in various industries in New York, Philadelphia, and New Jersey are worrying President Roosevelt and his assistants in the National Recovery Drive.

These strikes involve a serious impairment of purchasing power when it is most needed to speed up business and re-employment.

An uncertain factor is whether President Roosevelt will use inflation to increase purchasing power. Conflict of public opinion is disclosed on this point.

Mr. Henry Harriman, President of the U.S.A. Chambers of Commerce is of the opinion that President Roosevelt does not want money inflation but credit inflation, which he regards as being very sound.

Arrangements have already been made for commencing the construction of 37 warships, including four 10,000 ton cruisers, and involving an expenditure of $47,000,000.

Fears that this three year building programme might provoke a naval construction race in other countries were described as unjustified by Mr. H. L. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Department, in a broadcast speech.—Reuter.

HUNDREDS DEAD

PLAGUE RAGING IN MANCHURIA

Dairen, Sept. 20.

The whole of Manchuria is united in a three line defence against the southward sweep of bubonic and pneumonic plague at present raging north of Supingkai, and claiming hundreds of lives.

The first defence is confined to fighting the plague in districts known to be infected. The second main defence extends to Cheng-chiatun on the Liao River, midway between Mukden and Hsinking; and the third and last check is at Supingkai.

The Kwangtung Government, the South Manchurian Railway, the Japanese Embassy, Manchuko, the North Manchurian Railway and the U.S.S.R. are sparing no expense in maintaining rigorous inspection of all travellers.

Other anti-plague activities include the establishment of isolation houses, the disinfecting of Manchukuo bath houses, a wholesale war on rats and the suspension of river traffic.

The last epidemic occurred in 1928 when 1,200 died.—Reuter.

PERSONAL MATTER

VATICAN REPLY TO PRAGUE REQUEST

Rome, Sept. 20.

The Vatican has met the Czechoslovakian request for the recall of the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Ciriaci, with the decision not to intervene in the matter, giving the opinion that the question is insignificant and should be settled personally between the Papal Nuncio and Czechoslovakian Government.—Reuter.

The trouble between the Papal Nuncio and the Government arose when Msgr. Ciriaci wrote to the leader of the Slovak Popular Party, complaining that he had been insulted in Prague.

The non-Catholic Press, following the publication of the letter accused the Nuncio of interfering in the internal affairs of the country and of attempting to incite the Slovaks to separate from the rest of the community.

The Cabinet censured the letter and decided to request the recall of Msgr. Ciriaci.

HURRICANE TOLL

FIFTY PERISH IN MEXICAN STORM

Mexico City, Sept. 20.

At least fifty lives were lost in Mexico as the result of the hurricane which swept round the Gulf of Mexico and northward against the United States cities, according to reports from Tampico.

Most of the persons killed were washed out of lowlying structures beside the river Thames, which runs to the sea at Tampico.

Three thousand are homeless. Military and the civil authorities are making superhuman efforts to alleviate the misery which the hurricane has wrought.—Reuter.

No. 22 Queen's Street, a Chinese tenement of the shop and dwelling type, with a site containing an area of 818 sq. ft. held on a 999-year lease, was sold by public auction at Messrs. Lamont & Co., auctioneers yesterday. The purchasers were the Sang Yuen Land Investment Co., Ltd., who paid $28,500.

WAR RESUMED IN GRAN CHACO

PARAGUAY REJECTS ARBITRATION

Buenos Aires, Sept. 16.
Renewed intensive fighting in the Gran Chaco was reported to-day, after peace efforts by neighbouring countries apparently were on the verge of success.
Bollivian reports claimed that Paraguayans were repulsed after a four-day encounter, inflicting heavy casualties.
On the other hand, Asuncion accounts said that four Bolivian regiments were annihilated.
It was authoritatively learned that Paraguay has rejected the latest proposal of Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru for a settlement of the prolonged border dispute.
Bolivia ordered next year's recruits to be mobilized October 1. However, Bolivia insisted that she was still studying the A. B. C. P. proposals.

NEW REGIME IN SPAIN MENACED

Lerroux Threatened With General Strike

Madrid, Sept. 17.
The newly formed government of Senor Lerroux is threatened with a revolutionary general strike, designed to overthrow it, only a few days after taking up the helm of government.
The authorities reported the discovery of plans to stage a general strike on Monday.
It was believed the Left Wing group, including Socialists, Communists and certain army elements were attempting to overthrow the Lerroux regime.

ST. TERESA'S CHURCH.

PATRONAL FEAST TO BE HELD NEXT SUNDAY

On Sunday, 24th instant, at St. Teresa's Church, Prince Edward Road, there will be solemnized for the first time the patronal feast of St. Teresa of the Child Jesus. At 9.30 a.m. H. E. Monsignor Valtorta will officiate at Solemn Pontifical Mass with special music by the Little Flower Choir.
Service in the afternoon will start at 5 p.m. with the Statue of St. Teresa carried in solemn procession, followed by a sermon to be preached by Rev. Fr. G. Byrne, S. J. The ceremony will be concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given by H. E. Monsignor H. Valtorta. All Catholics and all Catholic Associations (with banners and uniforms) are invited.

Through the courtesy of the Asiatic Petroleum Company a film on anti-malarial measures will be shown to the Hongkong University Medical Society at its general meeting on Friday, September 22, in Room 20, at 6.15 p.m. Dr. A. B. Jackson, the Government Malariaologist, has kindly consented to lecture on the occasion. Members and friends are cordially invited.

SAGA OF AIR TRANSPORT

AMAZING BRITISH PROGRESS LINKING EMPIRE BY PLANES

London.
British civil air transport has been taking stock of itself after fourteen years of progress.

This saga of the air forms one of the greatest romances in the history of the British Empire. It takes its place beside the story of the railways, of the "windjammer" and the steamship.

It began fourteen years ago when the daily London-Paris air service first began.

There were 250 miles of air routes then. The journey to Paris was made in a noisy 360 h.p. plane carrying two passengers. It cost twenty guineas.

To-day there are 14,000 miles of air routes blazing an aerial trail throughout the Empire.

DINNER IN MID-AIR.

The journey to Paris costs five guineas in 2,200 h.p. air giants carrying 38 passengers and a crew of four. Lunch and dinner is served in mid-air. It is travel de luxe.

Fourteen years ago a few thousand letters and a few hundred parcels and freight were sent by air; to-day millions of letters and from 50 to 60 tons of freight take the air weekly.

What is even more striking is that reliability of British flying is classed at just under 100 per cent.

The fleets of British air liners are now flying more than 2,000,000 miles a year and carrying more than 60,000 passengers.

Consider the romance of Imperial Airways. Nine years ago the company operated fifteen aeroplanes. To-day forty of their super-planes and flying-boats wing their way across the air trails, flying like clockwork.

In nine years Imperial Airways have flown 10,798,000 miles and carried nearly 260,000 passengers. "Link the Empire by Air" has been the watchword of British air transport schemes.

BLAZING NEW EMPIRE ROUTES.

Since the inauguration of the 5,000 miles London-India service four years ago, the Empire air chain has linked up with Cape Town and other places.

Now it is on the eve of an extension to Australia. New Zealand will join in automatically; China Canada and an Atlantic service will someday soon be realities.

This future is illimitable. There are no heights to which the imagination cannot soar. Every day freights and passenger traffic are increasing.

The saga is not yet finished. There are still more breathless chapters to be written.—Reuter.

CLAN BRAWL NIPPED IN BUD.

NEAR RIOT AVOIDED IN STANLEY STREET

Early last evening the Police were informed that members of two different clans, engaged as shop folks and coolies in Stanley Street and its neighbourhood, had planned a fight to take place later in the evening.

The Emergency Unit was dispatched and stood by, while a party of police officers went to Stanley Street where the arrested six loiterers as a precautionary measure.

There was no trouble of any nature during the evening.

CHIEF OF EURASIA CO. STATES PLANS

Nanking, Sept. 20.
Li Ching-chung, manager of the Eurasia Aviation Corporation, arrived in Nanking from Shanghai in a Junker plane this morning.
After refuelling, Mr. Li departed for the north-west, en route to Hainan, Tihua and Tachen, to inspect the aerodromes.

Mr. Li Ching-chung told pressmen he may fly to Chinghai from Sinkiang to survey a route for the proposed extension of the north-western air line into Chinghai.—Reuter.

CUBA WANTS A NEW LEADER

Havana, Sept. 20.
An epidemic of strikes and a threat of civil war has whipped up passion to fever heat in the interior of Cuba.

The Government is frantically endeavouring to allay this feeling and has issued a decree making an eight hour day effective from October 20.

In the meantime, the acuteness of the situation is reflected in an unconfirmed report surrounding the veteran rebel leader, Blas Hernandez. With 500 followers he was reported to be marching on Havana from Camaguey.

It is stated that Mazorra and loyalist leaders commanding 600 soldiers and students, after exchanging shots, homed in the rebels, some of whom have already surrendered.—Reuter.

CHILD PROTECTION.

LOCAL SOCIETY RECEIVES WELCOME DONATION

A generous gift by a local dancing academy is acknowledged with deep gratitude by the Hongkong Society for the Protection of Children. The Yellow Dragon Dancing Academy, recently established in the King's Theatre building, has sent the Society a cheque for $250, representing the whole of the entrance moneys received on the evening of September 16, and the Academy propose to send the Society the "gate" receipts for every Saturday evening during the next two months. This has come at a time when the Society for the Protection of Children is faced with the possibility of a big deficit, and needless to say is a most welcome donation to a worthy cause.

MOTOR BUS MISHAP.

WOMAN PASSENGER AND TWO CHILDREN INJURED

A collision in Caine Road yesterday evening resulted in three bus passengers being taken to Hospital suffering from minor injuries. None of the victims was detained.

The bus was travelling along Caine Road near Ladder Street and was passed by a taxi. According to a report subsequently made to the Police, the taxi struck the front wheel of the bus, causing the bus driver to lose control. The bus collided with the wall of a house on the north side of the road. A Chinese lady and two children were bruised but not seriously injured.

SHANGHAI TYPHOON.

WOOSUNG COTTON PARTIALLY DESTROYED

Shanghai, Sept. 20.
Sections of the dykes protecting the sea coast at Woosung collapsed during the typhoon on Monday night, leading to the destruction of 60 per cent of the cotton crop between Woosung and Paoshan, four miles distant, according to Chinese reports.

The reports add that there was no loss of life, and the dykes are being sandbagged pending repairs by the Kiangsu Provincial Government.—Reuter.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1933.

A FORTY HOUR WEEK

The International Labour Office of the League of Nations has now issued to all governments a questionnaire on the debated subject of the reduction of hours of work as a remedy for unemployment. At the last International Labour Conference practically all the workers' representatives and a considerable proportion of the governments present were in favour of concluding an immediate Convention limiting hours of work to forty in the week. The chief opposition came, of course, from employers; but the British Government also opposed the idea of the Convention, pointing out that the information available on the economic and social effects of a reduction of hours is still very incomplete. The present questionnaire, therefore, contains, besides the usual set of questions bearing indirectly on the nature of the proposed Convention, a further preliminary questionnaire asking Governments to submit information on the whole subject of hours of work and costs. Governments are asked to report on numbers employed and unemployed, existing hours and the extent to which the average working week has in practice been reduced by means of general reductions, rotation systems, and so on; the effect which a reduction of hours to forty per week would have in increasing or decreasing unemployment and on the labour market according to existing rates of pay were reduced proportionately to the reduction of hours, or increased to leave the Total Wages Bill unchanged; indications of the measures which would be necessary to neutralise or mitigate a reduction of unemployment in industries in which this might result from reduction of hours; the extent to which costs of production and the general national economy would be affected according as the wage bill were reduced proportionately or maintained; the effect of a reduction of hours on social insurance schemes, and the technical practicability of reducing hours to forty per week. These questions constitute a formidable list, and it is very doubtful whether many governments will be able to give satisfactory answers to all of them. At the same time, the most advanced industrial countries, which are those whose attitude is most important, are also those in which the information concerned is likely to be most complete. It would certainly be advantageous from every point of view if a clear picture of the whole position resulting from a reduction in hours of work could be obtained. It may possibly prove difficult to obtain the admission of many industrial countries to an international convention for the reduction of hours. But the compilation and publication of this information

JACK ASHORE

Sleeping accommodation for Jack ashore is an ever-recurring problem in Hongkong cropping up as soon as the Fleet is in for the winter. This year, although additional accommodation will be provided in the new wing of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, it will still be insufficient. On an average 830 ratings sleep ashore each night during the winter and last year there were beds for 640 only. Many men were compelled to sleep on the floor of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home—a sorry state of affairs. The maximum number of ratings allowed ashore leave at night is 2,800 but in view of the restriction in sleeping accommodation only a quarter of them are able to obtain the full value of that leave, the remainder having to content themselves with berths in a "steel box", as the Commodore so aptly described the warship the other day. Here is an opportunity for the community to show interest in the welfare of the blue jacket. Why not open some of the halls in the Colony as dormitories when not needed for other purposes? The cost of equipping them could undoubtedly be met from the small charge made for accommodation.

MRS. BESANT

The decisive influence on the remarkable career of Mrs. Annie Besant, the world-famous theosophist, whose death occurred yesterday, was her meeting with the Russian mystic, Mme. Blavatsky, who introduced her to Theosophy. Having joined the Theosophical Society, she devoted all her energies to its service, and Mr. Bernard Shaw met his match when he went to protest against her desertion of the Fabian Society. She replied that, like him, she had become a vegetarian and that perhaps this had enfeebled her brain. She travelled all over the world to spread the tenets of her faith and after the death of Mme. Blavatsky in 1891, became the acknowledged leader of the movement. In the following year she transferred her main activities to India, taking up her abode in Madras and combining religious, social and political work, playing an important part in political developments for nearly thirty years.

THE NEW CUNARDER

Again it is being rumoured that work on the new Cunarder will soon be resumed. It is understood, however, that this depends upon Government support and that this again depends on the amalgamation of the Cunard and White Star lines. Should this development occur, it would cause little surprise in shipping circles. The merger will involve the establishment of a holding company to be known as the British National Line dominating the partnership through its stronger financial position. This much of the undertaking is distinctly a step in the right direction. Street economy is essential in shipping today. With the elimination of duplication in operating facilities and co-ordination of services rather than competition, much should be achieved in that respect. Britain perhaps may dislike to view its shipping policy as an outright subvention. Yet if it is a subsidy, it is necessitated by policies of co-ordinated control pursued by other European countries.

SIZE COMPETITION

Italy is waving the flag in jubilation over the feat of the Rex and its passage of four days, thirteen hours, fifty-eight minutes is noteworthy. But from the standpoint of practical economy, it is doubtful whether the Rex's fuel consumption chart reveals figures to advance the cause of the extravagant superliner. With the Clydebank about to renew work on the huge Cunarder, probably designed to surpass the Rex, international competition for size and speed in ocean liners takes another costly step. This phase of the merger presents a striking paradox to the save-the-ropes yarns policy which actuates the undertaking. It indicates that the spectre of nationalism has not yet been driven off. From a self-centred viewpoint, the shipping amalgamation is a reasonable move. But if the merchant services of the world fail to weather off their respective governments, all may eventually be obliged to adopt a policy which many observers believe should have been pursued long ago—international agreement and co-operation.

can hardly fail to hasten on the general movement towards reduction which is spreading so fast in individual industries and firms.

GADGET MANIA IN GOLF

He had been eight years upon a project for extracting sunbeams out of cucumbers....—Gulliver's Travels.

—By VAGRANT

THE letter of enthusiastic appreciation from a correspondent regarding a new grip set me musing on the numerous additions to the golfer's outfit. The coming of the bag was before my day, and really the first of the extras I can remember was the captive ball which had a long string attached to it with a little parachute at the other end. We once had one at home for a month or two but it left us in stirring circumstances.

It was a peaceful summer afternoon with the hum of the insects playing seconds to a distant moving machine. My father hit the ball well and the clattering jingle of falling glass sounded like the collapse of the Crystal Palace rather than the shattering of a conservatory pane. The irate owner popped his head above the wall. A velvet smoking cap he wore, to make matters worse—one of those with a tassel.

To my father's explanation that it was a captive ball, he paid scant attention. Looking back on the scene now, my father's story, as he stood dangling, as the only dimly evidence of his innocence, the blameless parachute on the fickle string that had severed a long partnership with the errant ball without warning, sounded the ready invention of an agile brain. For golf was little known amongst us. Sassenachs in those days. Even so, despite his ignorance of golf and aerodynamics, our neighbour was gradually soothing down, and was about to descend his ladder, when my father caught sight of me, holding my sides in dumb, agonising mirth behind the rainwater tub. He struggled for one breathless second, wavered, and all his solemnity, too, came off the string of control. The smoking cap disappeared with a mumble of imprecations. The ball we never saw again. But I always considered it a wonderful afternoon for ten shillings worth of glass.

That was many years ago, and the captive ball seems to me by far the earliest of golf gadgets. Then there is a long gap with rubber tees, with gorgeous tassels attached, as the next milestone, and the steady development of the rubber-cord ball as a never ceasing undertone. (Can anyone forget the proud ownership of the first one? I found mine in a cabbage patch at Seaford and lost it one stroke later in the gorae. Sic transit.) After rubber tees, folding—with three different heights made thus available—came, I think, peg-tees, which were scorned at first by the golfers of the low-handicap class, but soon became universally used. Harry Vardon was, I fancy, the last of the great ones to desert the sand-box. The first of the peg-tees were made of wood, but they were soon followed by metal ones, which got into the mowing machines, or so it was said, then bone ones, tees of compressed milk, papiermache and goodness knows what else besides. And close on the flood came smart little cases to carry them in. These memories whetted my appetite, and yesterday I promised myself a gargantuan la carte. So it was I spent an exhaustive, exhausting time tasting all the golfing fare provided in the shops of various professionals, and in the golf requisite departments of various West End emporia, in one of which, with the critical eye of the greatest of lady golfers upon me, my innate shyness and acknowledged ineptitude prevented me from displaying my cracking swing. Rather, would I invite Mrs. Battle to a game of "Rummy." And I issued gorged with knowledge.

It can be said without fear of contradiction that the march of time has seen each golden hour improved by the opportunism of the golf salesman, and the home of a real enthusiast has become a museum of aids to the breaking of 90. Another round of the shops and only the Olympia will house the spoils.

That gullows in the corner is a device to keep the head motionless when practising swinging. (Who was it said the gullotine was the only cure for dandruff?) The odd rubber contraption on the floor is calculated to groove the swing. Here are casts of great golfers' grips, which can be fixed to the club and, faithfully overlapped, unless, of course, your hands, like mine, resemble wicket-keeping gloves. "Could we but wear their shoes," I said, but this brilliant double entendre missed fire, so I pass it on to you. To keep the left arm straight is a leather sleeve with a touch of the surgical macabre about it. The floor is littered with substitutes for holes that one may practise fades, with a bent gripped putter to ensure the perfect pendulum swing. Nor has the garden escaped, for just between the clock-golf and the shrubbery are a net into which are slotted to catch the accurate shot at varying heights, and a vast slab of plasticine against which to drive a ball and see the error of flight clearly indicated by the indentation. In place of the old captive ball of heroic memories there is a ball on a string, with a length of rubber at right angles to the flight. The ball comes back but cannot hit you. I wonder? No form of mechanism ever does what it ought to do with me—I once lost a finger-nail in a mouse-trap.

But of all these fascinating games, the one I like best is that which enables the player to drive a soft ball which is attached to strong rubber to limit its flight to about three feet. If the drive is accurate the ball hits a target and rings a bell, of which the cheerful tinkle is somewhat drowned by the record of golf instruction being ground out by the gramophone at the open window.

And to-day I shall set out with my gay umbrella and shooting stick combined. Behind me will come my wooden clubs gaily caparisoned in woollen sleeping helmets, or subject to the fallible weather report on a page, mackintosh covers, and a jangling armoury of graded irons in a bag of bungalow dimensions. And there will be mackintosh trousers and coats in the great

The Very Idea!

WEATHER OR NOT!

By Edward Kelly, Meteorologist
WE have now become a full-fledged citizen of Hongkong.

From now on, we can gaze down upon all newcomers with a supercilious stare, and, when they mention typhoons, sniff.

We refer, of course, to the typhoon yesterday. As soon as the No. 9 signal was hoisted we looked it up in our typhoon guide, "Gale expected to increase," it said.

We flung the perspiration off ourself with a wat' forefinger and felt thankful.

A miasma of deathly stillness hung over Hongkong, but we knew it couldn't last.

The No. 9 signal, like the celebrated plot of the same name, would soon start thinning.

That nothing happened was not the fault of the Weather Bureau. How could Mr. Jeffries help it if one of his isobars fused? When isobar not a bar? If so, why not? And once we've started in this strain nothing can stop us. We intend to write about the weather whether you like it or not.

The wind is what causes it. Up at the Royal Observatory the barometer drops and the typhoon signal goes up. They always do things by opposites. That's why typhoon means "big wind" in Chinese.

When the barometer drops, Mr. Jeffries swears, and picks up the pieces. This is known as relative humidity, meaning a dead relation in a hot place.

After the barometer drops two or three times, Mr. Jeffries gets tired of picking it up, so he hoists the typhoon signal.

All you have to do then is listen to other people, while they tell you about the '09 typhoon, or the '23 typhoon, until the barometer is permanently fixed in position with a piece of string.

The typhoon signal is then lowered, and Mr. Jeffries goes home to bed, conscious of a good day's work.

Typhoon is the Chinese name for cyclones, tornadoes, hurricanes, blizzards, and depressions generally, depending on what part of the world you live in.

Owing to the financial blizzard, America can have only one depression, or tornado, a year. This is naturally referred to as the economic depression.

Frank things often happen in typhoons in other parts of the world. In Mexico the other day a church was swung around on its axis, so that the front door became the back, and vice versa. We have often been that way ourselves, but never at a church.

There was the other instance of a girl who was walking along the seashore at Palm Beach with her boy friend. They were suddenly struck by a tornado, which did not harm them, but tore the girl's dress completely off.

Since then she has been referred to as the girl who went down to the sea in slips.

So when you sum it all up, there's not much use for typhoons. About the only decent thing they do is fill the reservoirs with rain.

Thus the only man who is really pleased when a typhoon happens along is Mr. Tickle.

He is able to lift the water restrictions in time to have another water shortage next year.

It is the only man to whom a terrible blow is not a terrible blow.

"We were asking him about it the other day."

"What," we asked, "would be your last message to the public of Hongkong if you were caught in the middle of Shung Mun dam in a typhoon?"

"Au reservoir," he answered.

SLIPS THAT PASS

A correspondent, drawing attention to the number of typographical errors in Hongkong newspapers, quotes several amusing examples. A Sunday radio column advertised the hymn "Ford our watch" from St. John's Cathedral, and the correspondent suggests that this may be taken as an anticipation of Huxley's "Year of Our Ford." In a sporting paragraph a tennis player won his title in 1923, while another paper gave among its commercial items the fact that imports into Holland included canned beer.

Of course, it should be remembered that in the shrewdness of every newspaper employs Chinese also-tyrists, many of whom have only a shattering of English. Typographical errors have occurred in every newspaper in the world, in this respect even the London Times is not infallible.

In view of these peculiar circumstances that arise in the ar. Feast, the newspapers maintain a fairly high standard. Miss Takes do occur, both Hongkong papers are by no means alone in this respect, as the fact that they are by no means alone in this respect.

"Parker, we want to sell lemonade. Will you have the cook make us some?"

NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL NOVELTIES

CINEMA AMONG THE FACILITIES

INTERESTING DETAILS OF LAY-OUT PLANS

A CINEMA WILL BE ONE OF THE MODERN FEATURES OF THE NEW INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL AND HOME TO BE ESTABLISHED AT ABERDEEN.

As has been previously indicated the Industrial School and Home at Aberdeen will be an undertaking of a nature hitherto unattempted in this part of the world.

Not only will it serve as a reformatory for juvenile offenders, but its scope will be considerably enlarged to embrace benevolent objects; in the main it will have to do with the general education and training of children of poor parents, without the stigma associated with a children's penitentiary.

CINEMA HALL.

In addition to workshops where children and young persons are to be taught the trades of the carpenter, shoemaker, printer and mechanic, a free school is also to be incorporated in the scheme, and for this purpose the building has been planned along extensive lines, to include a dozen large and airy class rooms.

Other highly interesting features will be the large concert hall and cinema projection room and a music room.

There are to be large and airy studies and dormitories, a sick room and dispensary.

In a word, the scheme will fully be what its name implies, an industrial school and home, where boys are taught, if not in exactly luxurious then in congenial surroundings.

SITE OF PAPER MILLS.

The large building, which was illustrated in the Telegraph on Monday and of which a sectional plan is given, will occupy an area of roughly 60,000 sq. ft. between the main motor road to Stanley and the hillside, portions of which will have to be cut away. The site is actually that occupied by the former Paper Mills and has been granted free by the Government.

Of this area, 45,000 sq. ft. will actually be covered by the building which it is proposed to construct in four blocks with a small annexe projecting from one corner of the main section. It will be of reinforced concrete throughout, the flooring to be mainly of terrazzo, except where it is found expedient to employ wood, and windows are to be metal framed. Rising to three storeys, the building has been designed to permit of the maximum of light and ventilation.

CLOCK-TOWER.

The frontage will extend for 400 feet along the main motor road, with an imposing four sided clock tower dominating the entrance in the main block.

At its greatest part the building will have a maximum depth of 220 ft., this receding to conform with the layout of the hillside in a succession of blocks to a point where it is only 70 ft. across.

The "A" or Main Block contains the administrative offices, and its most notable feature in addition to the clock tower, is a concert hall, with a stage, rising to a height of two storeys, with the cinema projecting room on the level of the first floor.

This hall is separated from the remainder of the block by two inner yards, and its dimensions are given as 71 ft. by 44 ft.

THE GENERAL LAYOUT.

Other details of this block are as follow:

Ground floor: A staff's and boys' dining room, and a waiting room.

First floor: Four class rooms.

Second: Three dormitories, including one over the concert hall.

"B" Block.—In this block on the ground floor are grouped the main industrial features, including a tailoring room, a carpenter's workshop, a shoemaker's workshop, and a drawing room.

The first floor: Six class-rooms, European staff's drawing room, four bedrooms and offices.

Second Floor: Two large dormitories extending over practically the whole area.

LARGE WORKSHOP.

"C" Block.—The ground floor of this block, measuring 100 ft. by 43, is wholly occupied by a workshop, and the first by a study for the boys.

The second floor has another dormitory, and also three separate bedrooms, a sick room and a dispensary.

"D" Block which connects with the rear of the main block, is 61 ft. by 68. Accommodation will be found herein for a kitchen, scullery and laundry on the ground floor, a dining and music room on the first, and a linen drying room on the second.

EUROPEAN QUARTERS.

The annexe which with the "B" Block encloses a yard, has been set aside as accommodation for the European staff, and contains a dining room and bedrooms.

As previously stated, the construction of the building is being financed by a group of Chinese businessmen and philanthropists headed by Mr. Li Yau-tsun, of China Building. The main building contract being carried out by Messrs. Cheong Hing Co., will entail an initial outlay of $240,000 excluding the cost of equipment.

The work will occupy a year, and on completion, the Salesian Fathers who have had considerable experience in the training of children, will be given charge.

MURDER CHARGE

THREE CHINESE IN COURT

The murder of a Chinese woman, Fung Man, aboard a sampan near the northern end of the Yaumati Typhoon Shelter on the night of September 10, was recalled in the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when, as a sequel, three men Chu Lam, earth coolie, Chu Pan, unemployed, and Lam Yau, grass cutter, were formally charged before Mr. Wynne-Jones.

On the application of Detective-Inspector C. Rozesky, the accused were remanded in Police custody to Saturday morning.

It was recalled that during the night in question the woman was apparently strangled to death with a piece of cord. The body was found drifting in a sampan.

The discovery was made by her son, who on finding that his mother's sampan was not at its usual mooring, went in search of her. He located the sampan between 6 and 6.30 a.m.

LOCAL ESTATES

LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION GRANTED

Wong Ying-kit, exporter, of 3, First Lane, South Bund, Canton, died on August 15, 1932, leaving local estate sworn under $10,800. Letters of administration have been granted to Wong Kwan-pui, son, of the same address but temporarily living at 3, Shelley Street, Victoria.

Local estate valued at $5,200 was left by Leung Man (or Mun) -kam (or Kum), storekeeper of 10, Mongkok Road, Kowloon, who died on July 14, 1932. Letters of administration have been granted to Leung Chan-shi, widow.

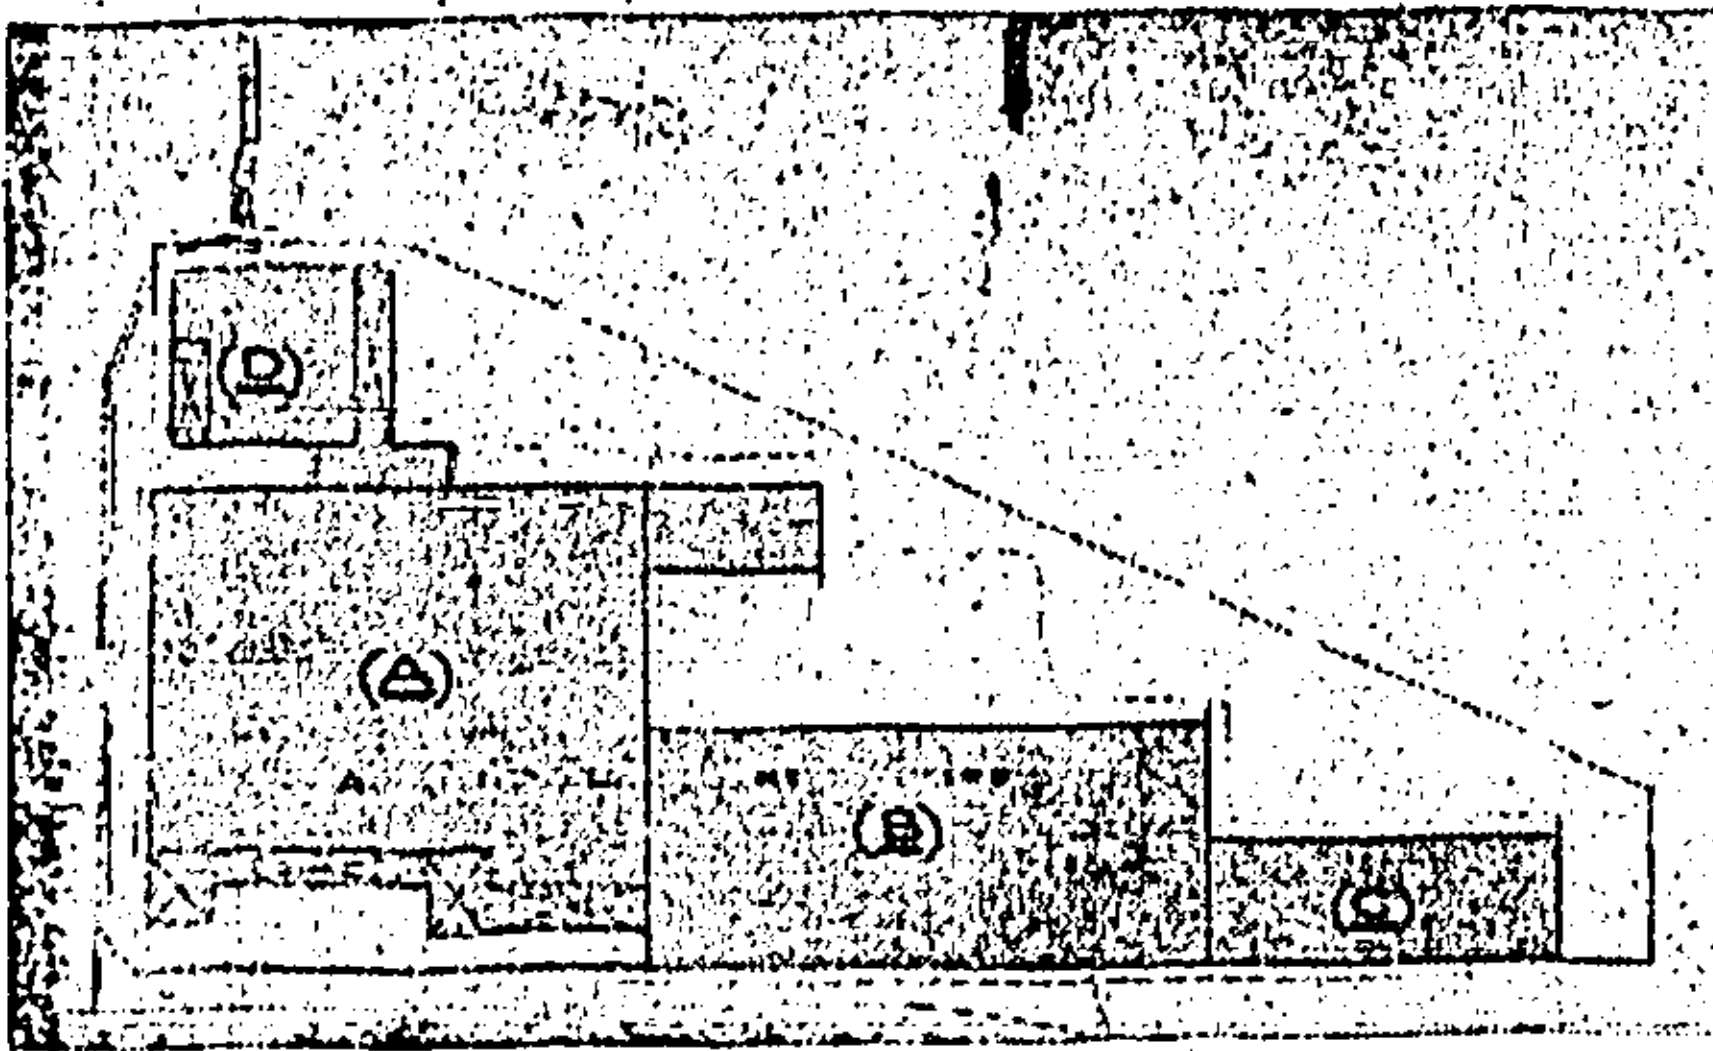

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

BLESSEDNESS CONSISTS IN THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF OUR DESIRES, AND IN OUR HAVING ONLY REGULAR DESIRES.—St. Augustine.

The wedding is announced to take place shortly of Mr. A. A. Friedman, mining engineer, of Baguio, P.I., to Miss Ethel Stearns, on route to the Colony on the s.s. President Coolidge.

Wong Sam, 20, who admitted he was employed to look after a sly brothel at 16, Shannhai Street, was fined $250 or four months by Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Kowloon Police Court this morning.

Through attempting to alight from a moving lorry in Des Voeux Road West, a Chinese Mak Chi was injured in the hand, and he went to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment. Another man, Yang Ching received head injuries when he hastily alighted from a bus at Aberdeen, being conveyed in a serious condition to the Hospital.

MR. MATSUDAIRA DENIES RUMOUR

Story of Impending Resignation

London, Sept. 20. Rumours have been in circulation suggesting that Mr. Matsudaira, the Japanese Ambassador, is resigning his appointment. The reports were denied by the Ambassador to-day. He said he hoped to go to Japan for a holiday after Christmas. He had been in London for five years without leave.—Reuter.

FATE OF ELEVEN STOWAWAYS

FINED $25 OR 14 DAYS IN PRISON

It was stated by Detective-Sergeant Browne in the Kowloon Police Court this morning when the remand case in which eleven Chinese charged with stowing away on the B. & S. King Yuen from Swatow to Hongkong was again called before Mr. Wynne-Jones, that he understood that an order for their return at the Company's expense could only be made in the case of non-Chinese.

Mr. E. G. Long, preventive officer, of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, said that the authorities at Swatow were not interested and so they must press the charge here.

The magistrate:—I am really more interested in getting them out of the Colony than anything else. A lot of scally-wags like these in the Colony is not going to do us much good.

Mr. Long agreed that it was very difficult for the compradore at Swatow to check on the people. They had very little control up there.

His Lordship imposed a fine of $25 or fourteen days' gaol on each defendant.

THE CANTON RICE TAX

REDUCTION TO SIXTY CENTS REPORTED

Canton, Sept. 21. It is reported that the Canton Financial Department has decided to grant a concession to the rice importers by reducing the rice tax from $1.00 per picul to sixty cents. This reduced rate is to be effective immediately.

The special taxation bureau for imported agricultural products has been functioning in Canton, while consular bureaux will soon be established at Swatow, Pakhoi, Kingchow and Kongmoon.—Central News Agency.

Mr. Wynne-Jones, who was at the Universities of Wales and Oxford, chose as his subject of research "The Nature of Acids and Bases." He will either go to Copenhagen or to the United States to carry out further research work on these lines. Readers will be interested to learn that he is the younger brother of Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones of the Hongkong Civil Service.

HOPES RISE AGAIN

CABINET MEETS ON DISARMAMENT

OUTLOOK NOW BRIGHTER

London, Sept. 20.

The Foreign Secretary and Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Sir John Simon, and Capt. Anthony Eden will leave London either to-morrow or Friday for Geneva. They will break the journey in Paris where they will see the French ministers who took part in the conversations with Captain Eden and Lord Tyrrell earlier this week.

A full report of these Paris conversations was presented to a special meeting of the Cabinet held in Downing Street this afternoon. Their purpose was mainly explanatory and exploratory, and the British Cabinet was to-day, for the first time, in a position to understand what the French Government have in mind on every point which arises in connection with the disarmament problem.

It is understood that the British ministers were much impressed by their helpful and reasonable attitude, and it was found that the views of the two Governments do not largely differ on any question.

CONVENTION.

The British Government are at present considering a disarmament convention in relation to the French proposals regarding the supervision and inspection of armaments but that is only one of the points which must be considered in relation to the whole Disarmament Conference and upon which no one Government can alone reach a decision.

In Geneva next week, conversations will take place in which the Italian, American and German representatives will also take part.

Within the last week or two Mr. Norman Davis, the Chief American delegate, has discussed points at issue with the British ministers in London and with the French ministers in Paris, while the Italian Government has also contributed helpful suggestions to these exchanges among the representatives of the chief powers.

GENERAL EFFECT.

The general effect is that an agreement within recent weeks has been brought sensibly nearer, and although many difficult points are still outstanding, the chances of securing a disarmament convention have undergone a distinct improvement since the conference adjourned last June.—British Wireless.

LOITERERS SENT TO PRISON

THEIR SUSPICIOUS BEHAVIOUR

Each with a previous conviction, two lads were charged before Mr. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning with loitering in Hillier Street in the early hours of this morning for an unlawful purpose.

Detective Sergeant Fowle said, defendants were seen by two Chinese detectives standing outside a house and peeping through the iron grille of No. 16. One of them stretched his hand inside and gave the impression that he was attempting to unbolt the gate.

The detectives walked towards them and on seeing the officers, defendants began to walk away.

Defendants denied that they were there for an unlawful purpose, stating that they were on their way to market to make some purchases.

Sentence of three months' hard labour was passed on each.

THEFTS BY UNEMPLOYED

TWO MEN BREAK INTO GARAGE

Leung Sam and Wu Lee, both unemployed, were charged before Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning, with the larceny of two grease pumps, one oil pump and a bag of tools from the ground floor of No. 74, Johnston Road, the property of the Hongkong Electric Company, and also with the larceny of one blanket, a jacket, a driver's licence and $19.10 in money the property of Man Lau from a garage in Shan Kong Road.

The first accused admitted the second charge, while the second, admitted both. A fine of $75 or six weeks hard labour was imposed on Leung Sam, as well as a fine of $50 or in default one month's hard labour for having broken a bond, under which he was bound to be of good behaviour, and Wu Lee received two months hard labour.

Detective Sergeant Fitches said that the first accused was arrested yesterday and admitted the second offence. He then elected to point out the second accused. Both men subsequently took the police to a marine hawk where the pumps were recovered, and to a pawn shop where the blanket was recovered.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

A tribute of respect to the memory of the late Sir Claud Severn, who was President of the Hongkong Civil Service Cricket Club from 1921 to 1925, was paid by His Honour Mr. Justice J. R. Wood, when presiding at the annual meeting of the C.S.C.C. yesterday evening.

"His enthusiasm for the Club and his good fellowship to all members many of us will remember," said Mr. Justice Wood.

By acclamation, the Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Director of Public Works, was elected a Vice-President. The Chairman said the election was not because of Mr. Henderson's official capacity in the Service but because of his long connexion with and loyal support of the Club.

The Chairman referred with regret to the deaths during the past year of Messrs. S. A. Roberts, J. Shand, H. Coombs, F. H. Holdman and Sir Claud Severn.

The Club's accounts were satisfactory and thanks were due to Mr. J. A. Bondall (Hon. Treasurer) and the auditors. He had pleasure in welcoming back from leave Mr. A. O. Brown, Chairman of the General Committee.

The Club had not gone in for vulgar success. (Laughter). In cricket, the first eleven did not do too well, but the second eleven had "enjoyed themselves." The report was too early to include the lawn bowls section which would have shown that the team nearly triumphed in the premier division.

The Report and Statement of Accounts was seconded by Mr. R. M. Wood and carried unanimously.

The Chairman, referring to certain additions and amendments to rules said the resolution (which was carried) enabled Civil Servants, who are not interested in sports, to take some interest in the social amenities afforded. He also expressed the hope that such members would interest their families in the club for similar purposes.

"The principal hope of your Committee is that it will make membership of the Club a tradition in the Service," concluded his Honour.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the out-going committee for their faithful work and this met with applause.

Before the meeting closed, Mr. Brown proposed the thanks of the meeting to Mr. Justice Wood, not only for taking the chair, but for his "keen, practical and continued interest in the Club." (Applause).

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The following officers were elected:—Cricket 1st XI Captain, Mr. J. E. Richardson; Vice-captain, Mr. B. C. K. Hawkins; 2nd XI Captain, Mr. J. F. McGowan; Vice-captain, Mr. H. Edmonds.

General Committee—Chairman, Mr. A. O. Brown; Cricket Representative, Mr. J. F. McGowan; Tennis Representative, Mr. W. Old; Lawn Bowls Representative, Mr. F. J. Jones; Grounds, Mr. A. W. Grimmett; Hon. Bar Convenor, Mr. S. Eccleshall; Hon. Librarian, Mr. W. J. Lockhart; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Bondall; Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. Deakin; and Messrs. J. Barrow, S. Alderman, H. Edmonds.

equipment, beneath which a diminutive, or old-age pension, caddy will feel like an abused steed of the White Knight, and envy the camel of the proverb whose last consignment from Luton prevented him from passing through the eye of a needle.

But whether I shall be as happy or efficient as the gentlemen in knickerbockers in the picture, who carry a few odd clubs loose under their arms and stride across the links taking no heed of the storm fast gathering over the sea, I very much doubt. One thing is certain. There passed with them the genuine artistry of stroke production, as the triumvirate will tell you and Hagen frankly admits.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

YESTERDAY'S MARKET EASY

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Frits, the New York market was easy yesterday. Business done 2,420,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal report on yesterday's market:

The market declined due to persistent domestic and foreign unloading mainly on account of the uncertainty as to the future of the U.S. dollar. The Secretary of Agriculture (Mr. Wallace) statement "that inflation was not a cure-all" unsettled foreign exchange which at first was buoyant against the dollar, later reacting sharply and declining at the close. Reports that the Soviet is seeking a large amount of copper strengthened metal. Our New York Office Cable (This morning)

Stocks: The coolness shown by officials of the Administration to the pressure of inflationists probably is responsible for most of the selling which took place. The list is likely to meet with support soon. Wheat: Realizing by protectionists on weakness of stocks and cotton broke wheat prices sharply. Eastern buying, however, absorbed and selling. Considering the news and the trade, the market is acting admirably well and buying is still advised on breaks. Cotton: Liquidation by disappointed overnight inflations and accumulated hedge selling on an extended market precipitated the decline which was furthered by stop loss orders. Nothing is yet evident to indicate an early change in the attitude of the Administration. The trade bought on declines. The Government weekly crop report is favourable. Silver: After a strong session the market moved easier on reaction of the general market. "Ironage Magazine" Cable.

Steel production was reported at 43% of capacity due to pressure for shipments which were previously ordered. Otherwise show a decline. The industry is uneasy about prices which were filed for the fourth quarter because of declining business and rising production costs.

NOW THAT PERMANENTS ARE PERMANENT

AMERICAN RECOGNITION OF SOVIET: BARGAINING COUNTER

RESTORATION OF TRADE

U.S.A. LIKELY TO ACT SOON

PRESIDENT'S ATTITUDE

New York, Sept. 20.

The recognition of Soviet Russia before Congress reconvenes is reliably indicated.

It is learned that President Roosevelt told a consultant on foreign affairs that he wished to dispose of the recognition issue while he was assured of freedom of action.

It is also learned that Mr. Jesse Jones, the chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and M. Bogdanov, chairman of the Amtorg, or Russian trading company in America, have been conferring on the possible extension of additional R. F. C. credit to Russia.

The extension of credit would be to enable Russia to purchase additional American commodities.

The question of Russian recognition was accepted as the principal obstacle in the way of a wide credit programme for Russia.

The New York Herald-Tribune said that it was informed the R. F. C. was contemplating extending an additional $50,000,000 credit to the Soviet government.

It was reported that Russia intends to purchase 500,000 bales of cotton, as well as other commodities.

A large amount of cotton has already been sold to Russia on R.F.C. credit.

CREDIT FACILITIES.

Washington, Sept. 20.

A project has been launched for relieving the market of nine million bales of cotton.

As the outcome of representations by the delegates of nine States, Mr. Johnson, the financial adviser to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, has undertaken to ask the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to finance the purchase of six million bales, while the Soviet have offered to buy three million if credit facilities are granted.—Reuter.

TRADE INFLUENCE.

Washington, Later.

President Roosevelt has appointed Mr. Henry Morgenthau, governor of the Farm Relief Credit Organization to conduct the trade negotiations with the Soviet.

The result is expected to have an important bearing on the question of American recognition as President Roosevelt is eager to restore American trade with Russia which last year was only a tenth of its previous value.

He is particularly anxious to dispose of part of America's surplus commodities such as cotton, in which connexion it is understood that the Soviet has offered to buy three million bales of American cotton if acceptable credit facilities can be arranged.—Reuter.

FISH CONTRACT DISPUTE

COMPRADORE FIRM'S COUNTER-CLAIM

A dispute over a fish contract was dealt with by the Chief Justice, Mr. J. R. Wood, at the Supreme Court this morning.

The Sun Chow Lee Fish Stall, of Central Market, sued for $815.66 balance due on fish sold and delivered to Wing Hing Firm, of 16, Lee Yuen Street West.

Mr. H. A. de Barros Botelho, of Leo D'Almeida & Co., appeared for plaintiff and Mr. H. L. Denny, of Denny & Co., represented defendant, who were stated to be a firm of compradores.

The defendants filed a counter-claim for $908.77 for breach of contract, stating that by plaintiff's refusal to sell them fish as they had contracted to do, they were compelled to obtain the fish from other sources at a higher price.

After hearing the evidence, His Lordship stated that the counter-claim depended on the defendant's right to retain money which had been deposited with them as a guarantee of good faith. In fact their own witness had admitted that there was no clause in the contract giving them this right, and they had merely retained the money as a safeguard for their counter-claim. The breach for contract was committed by defendant, the breach being a refusal to pay the account within a reasonable time on demands made. Judgment for plaintiff with costs in claim and counter-claim.

FAR EAST AIR MAIL NETWORK

COMPLETION IN TWO YEARS

BRITISH PLANS

London, Sept. 20.

The International Air Traffic Association will hold its half-yearly conference in London next week.

Thirty countries will be represented and Mr. Woods Humphrey, Managing Director of Imperial Airways, will preside.

Membership of the Association is limited to firms running regular air lines in their own or other countries. Among matters to be considered are the unification of methods of operation and the facilitation of passenger and goods traffic.

At the first session, Lord Londonderry, Minister for Air, will address the delegates.

National Air Transport Companies are now extending the work being done by private aeroplane owners in encouraging continental touring. They are offering air travel at fares often below those of corresponding first class rail and boat travel and they are working to a percentage efficiency figures now comparable with that for trains and boats.

One of the important developments in British air transport is the extension of the Indian air line to Calcutta and thence to Rangoon.

By Christmas, it is hoped the line will have been extended to Singapore and then the final link between England and Australia will remain for the dominion to complete.

Following yesterday's announcement that the Imperial Airways air mail service to India is being extended to Rangoon on Saturday, it is indicated that regular air-lines linking London with Siam, Hongkong, Manila, Shanghai and Tokyo are expected to be in operation within the next two years.

Plans are already completed for the inauguration of the much discussed England-Australia air service in March of next year.

The present England-India air-line which terminates at Calcutta is to be extended to Rangoon this week and before the end of the year Imperial Airways liners will be flying regularly between London and Singapore.

From Singapore to Port Darwin, the Australian terminus of the main airline, the service will be taken over by a company selected by the Australian government. As soon as this main line is established, the organisation of further extensions and auxiliary services will be begun.

BRITISH LINE TO MANILA?

The linking of the Australian airway with Siam, Hongkong, Shanghai and Tokyo is already under consideration, for it is foreseen that at each of these points the ramifications of local and international airlines will serve to increase the flow of traffic on the main British trunk line.

It is understood that a British service is being planned between Hongkong and Manila. Other plans for the extension of the Australian service include routes to Tasmania and New Zealand. Thus, in a comparatively short time, all parts of the Orient and the Antipodes will be in direct aerial communication with London.

BACK IN TEN DAYS.

A satisfactory survey flight over the London-Sydney route was recently completed by Major H. G. Brackley, the Air Superintendent of Imperial Airways, covering 23,540 miles in "Astrax," one of the fleet of eight four-engined Armstrong Whitworth monoplanes, designed specially for operation along the extra-European routes of Imperial Airways.

Accompanied by Mr. Hudson Fysh, the managing director of Queensland and Northern Territory Aerial Services, Major Brackley made the return trip from Australia to England in ten days, which is very little outside the existing record for the journey.

130 MILES AN HOUR.

These Armstrong Whitworth machines, which are to be used on the England-Australia service, when loaded to a total weight of 20,000 pounds reach a maximum speed of 150 miles an hour and cruise comfortably at 130 miles an hour. With any one engine stopped and with full load on board—they can maintain level flight at all heights up to seven

IMPERIAL MAUSOLEUM SACKED

AMAZING STORY FROM WARSAW

TSARS' TOMBS DESPOILED

London.

An amazing story which tells of a Commission appointed to open and sack the Imperial Mausoleum in Petrograd has been published in a Polish newspaper, the Ilustrowany Kurier Tsdzenn.

It is said to have been sent in a letter from a member of the O.G.P.U. to one of the Russian colony in Warsaw, and, if authentic contains matter of great historical interest.

IN THE MAUSOLEUM.

"I am writing of an unforgettable impression.

"The heavy doors of the Mausoleum swung open, and before our eyes are the tombs of the Emperors arranged in a semicircle. Before us lies the whole history of Russia.

"The President of the Commission gives the order, 'Begin with the most recent,' and the engineers open the tomb of Alexander III.

"Alexander III is in a general's uniform, richly adorned with his decorations. The body is quickly removed from the silver coffin, the rings taken from the fingers, and the decorations in diamonds from the tunic. The body is then put in an oak container.

"The same procedure is followed with the coffins of Alexander II, and Nicholas I.

"The members of the Commission hastened their work as the air of the Mausoleum is heavy.

MYSTERY OF ALEXANDER I.

"Next comes the turn of Alexander I, but there the unexpected is met. The tomb is empty, which seems to confirm the legend that the Emperor's death at Taganrog and his subsequent burial were fictitious, and that he ended his life as a monk in Siberia.

"There was a tense moment when the Commission opened the coffin of the Emperor Paul. The uniform, which fitted perfectly is beautifully preserved, but Paul's head is a nightmare. The waxed mask which covers the face has melted away through the action of time and temperature, and disclosed the ghastly wound of the murdered Tsar.

"The bodies are hastily placed in the oak receptacles, and the silver coffins that had contained them are piled one above the other.

"The Commission spends a long time over the tomb of Catherine the Great, where they find a quantity of jewels.

PETER THE GREAT.

"At last we come to the last, or rather to the first of them, that of Peter the Great.

"The lid of the silver coffin, which for convenience has been stood on end, breaks open, and to our startled eyes Peter the Great is revealed in all his giant stature. The unexpected sight fills us with awe.

"Peter the Great stands like life before us.

His face beautifully preserved, the Great Tsar, who during his lifetime struck terror into the hearts of his people, once more cast his terrible influence upon his beholders. But, whilst transferring it to the oak container, the body which endured for 200 years crumbles into dust.

"The horrible task is completed, and the oak containers with the remains of the Tsars, are taken to the Isankiesky Cathedral, where they are put in the basement."

The discomfitment, states the writer, was carried out under the direction of an organisation known as the Pongold (Help for the Hungry) with the object of melting down the Silver Coffins and turning to account all valuables on the Imperial corpses.—Reuter.

thousand feet. Accommodation may be provided for seventeen passengers.

Further improvement are being considered, however, which will give the planes a cruising speed of 135 m.p.h., with a load of 25,000 pounds a rate of climb of 1,000 feet per minute and seating accommodation for twenty passengers.

600 MILES OF OIL

IRAQ PIPE LINE IN SEPT. 1934

15 MONTHS AHEAD OF CONTRACT

Jerusalem.

Oil will be flowing through the northern section of the great Iraq pipe-line, which is to cross 600 miles of desert, by September 1934—provided that the present rate of work on the line is maintained.

Thus this part of the pipe-line will be finished 15 months ahead of the date for the completion of the work.

Under the terms of the concession, the Iraq Petroleum Company are to finish laying the pipe by the end of 1935. It is confidently expected that all the work will be completed well before that date.

The purpose of the pipe-line is to convey oil from the Iraq Petroleum Company's oilfields in Iraq across the desert to the ports of Haifa and Tripoli, on the Mediterranean.

Work has been carried on simultaneously from both ends of the pipe-line—Haifa and Kirkuk. The American welders at work along the route are finishing their part of the job as soon as the sections of the piping are laid.

$400,000 A YEAR SUBSIDY

In the past few weeks the welders have worked so fast that they have to be "laid off" two days at a time in some weeks to enable more material to be hauled over the desert to them.

Of the four gangs doing this work, one has already finished its task.

The Company is paying the Iraq Government a subsidy of $400,000 a year, and the sooner production starts, the lower the overhead expenses will be. The French authorities, too, are stated to be pressing for an early completion of the work.

There is no decision as yet to build the large refinery at Haifa according to the original plans.—Reuter.

BOY'S CRUELTY TO CHICKEN

CARRIED 29 IN TWO SMALL BASKETS

A youth of 15 named Au Leung was brought before Mr. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning on a charge of cruelty to chicken.

It was alleged by Inspector Smith that he carried 29 chickens in two small baskets in Connaught Road West yesterday afternoon.

Pleading that he was sent by his master to carry the baskets to a shop in Kau U Fong, defendant admitted the offence.

Inspector Smith said the boy was employed by a poultry dealer and ball of $16 was furnished immediately after defendant was arrested. A fine of $5 was imposed.

FALLING IN LOVE

NOT OUR MOST STUPID ACTION

SAYS EINSTEIN

New York.

Falling in love is not at all the stupidest thing that mankind does and gravitation cannot be held responsible for Cupid's actions, if Professor Albert Einstein's theory of love is correct.

Professor Einstein, famous for his theory of relativity, expressed these views in a letter received by Mr. Frank Wall, Long Island City, Mr. Wall was curious about "love and other foolish things" that he wrote recently to Dr. Einstein at the latter's retreat in Le Coeur-sur-Mer, Belgium.

Mr. Wall's letter was as follows:

"I am sorry I cannot express this well enough in German. 'I understand the world moves so fast it, in effect, stands still, or so it appears to us.

"Part of the time, it seems, a person is standing right side up; part of the time on the lower side he is standing upside down, upheld by the law of gravitation; and part of the time he is sticking out on the earth at right angles and part of the time at left angles.

"Would it be reasonable to assume that it is while a person is standing on his head—or rather, upside down—he falls in love and does other foolish things?"

Dr. Einstein's answer, in German, said:—

"Very Honoured Sir: 'Falling in love is by no means the most foolish thing mankind does—but gravitation cannot be held responsible for that. With highest regards, Albert Einstein.'—Reuter.

BORZOIS TO RACE GREYHOUNDS

Woman Trainer's Bold Venture

London.

Mrs. Jean Darroch, a young Scotswoman, intends to revolutionize dog-racing in Great Britain. She is going to train her three prize Borzois (Russian wolf-hounds) to race against greyhounds for the "electric rabbit." At present greyhounds are the only dogs who race in Great Britain.

She says that the dogs have the muscles for running and in six months' time will be ready to challenge the fastest greyhound. At the experiment succeeds Mrs. Darroch hopes to take up Borzois training on a large scale.

She is a well-known woman dog exhibitor and has won many prizes for her dogs. The idea of racing Borzois occurred to her because somebody who was admiring trophies said, "They have won many prizes on parade, but a well-known greyhound on three legs could leave them standing on the race track." She immediately set out to prove that her dogs could race too.—Reuter.

LOSS TO THEOSOPHY

DEATH OF MRS. BESANT

DISCOVERED THE "NEW MESSIAH"

London, Sept. 20.

Dr. Annie Besant, the Theosophist writer and lecturer, died at Bombay to-day aged 85.

Mrs. Besant had a remarkable career. Born in London in Oct. 1847, as the daughter of Mr. Wm. P. Wood, she lost her parents at an early age.

She was brought up in the Anglican Church and in 1867 married the Rev. Frank Besant, but separated from him in 1873 to join the Freethinkers under Charles Bradlaugh. She helped to edit the periodical of the movement, lectured all over the country and took a leading part in the long agitation to obtain for Bradlaugh the right to sit in the House of Commons.

SOCIAL WORKER.

Mrs. Besant was keenly interested in social reform and her work among the London poor led her to become a Socialist and a member of the Fabian Society. She played a large part in the campaign of the Progressive party in the first London County Council. Then she came into contact with Theosophy, deserted the Fabian Society and went to India.

In 1898 she founded the Central Hindu College at Benares which later developed into the Hindu University. From this nucleus sprang the Indian National Congress which at first concerned itself with the religious and social uplifting of the Indian people, but later became a political organisation. Mrs. Besant took part in its political activities with the result that, although during the war she showed herself a loyal British subject, she was interned by the Governor of Madras on account of her efforts to secure self-government for India. In the same year as president of the Indian National Congress she had declared that India by the will of God was bound up with England so that the East and the West might unite for the good of the whole world. Thus she remained first and foremost an Englishwoman and, as the Nationalist Government in India developed in a direction of which she did not approve, she cut herself adrift from it, resigning her membership of the National Congress.

DISCOVERED NEW MESSIAH.

So ended her political life, but she continued her activities in the domain of Theosophy. In 1902 the German mystic Rudolf Steiner came under her influence, but later turned against her and in 1912 demanded that she should be removed from the leadership of the Theosophical Society—a proposal which was not agreed to. He then left the movement and in 1913 founded his "Anthroposophical Society."

In 1911 one of Mrs. Besant's adherents had founded the "Order of the Star in the East" to prepare the way for a new Mission, whom she had "discovered" in the Hindu youth Krishna-Murti. The education of the lad was entrusted to a former Australian cleric named Leadbeter, but later trouble arose with him over his treatment of his charge. Meanwhile Krishna-Murti (Q.V.) had been solemnly proclaimed as the new Messiah. Among his twelve apostles were Mrs. Besant, three Anglican clergymen, a Buddhist and several Brahmins. His adoption led to dissensions in the Theosophical Society. The Canadian section rejected him, The Czechoslovak society seceded and there were many defections in Australia, South Africa and elsewhere. In London Mrs. Besant was asked what right she had to impose a new Messiah and a new religion on the movement.

ELOQUENT AT 80.

Krishna-Murti himself has denied that he is the new Messiah, merely speaking, and writing of Christ's teachings as he finds them. His official title is the "Vehicle of the World-Teacher." Early in 1927 Mrs. Besant appealed for £40,000 to buy the Ojai Valley in California which should be the seat of a higher-plane civilisation "in which bodies, emotions and minds shall be trained and disciplined in the divine life, developing the spirit of brotherhood practically in everyday arrangements and methods of living. The colony was to be called the happy "Valley Foundation" and Krishna-Murti was to take up his abode there.

After the war despite her years Mrs. Besant travelled annually from India to England where she

HITLER'S IRON CROSS

HOW HE WON IT DURING WAR

PIECE OF BLUFF

Berlin.

A halo of mystery has always surrounded the war-time deeds of Adolf Hitler. Modestly he never talks about them and he is particularly silent about how he got his Iron Cross of the first-class exactly 15 years ago.

A Berlin newspaper lifts the veil on this point. It was during the autumn campaign near La Bassée and Arras in 1915. Hitler and another soldier named Welles were on patrol duty near Fromelles and were endeavouring to find out where the nearest French troops were.

They crept into an apparently deserted village but suddenly French voices were heard coming from the cellar of a wrecked house. Hitler without hesitation opened the door and called out in broken French that a German company was behind him and summoned the French soldiers to surrender. Then, says the paper, giving commands to the non-existent company, he completely bluffed the French and a Lieutenant and 20 soldiers emerged with hands up and surrendered to Hitler and his companion, who escorted them to their Bavarian regiment.

It was for this deed that Hitler, three years later, on August 1918, got the Iron Cross of the 1st class. It is added he already had the Military Service Cross and Regimental Diploma for bravery.

Hitler was during the war wounded by a shell splinter in the thigh and suffered from gas poisoning which led to his temporary blindness.—Reuter.

NEW GLIDING RECORD

IN AIR FOR NEARLY SEVEN HOURS

BRITISH TRIUMPH

London.

A new British duration gliding record has been established by Flight Lieutenant E. L. Mole, of Birmingham. He remained in the air for nearly seven hours.

It was during a secret test flight of a new type—of—soaring glider, carried out at the London Gliding Club's ground at Dunstable, that the feat was achieved.

Flight-Lieutenant Mole took off at 10.43 a.m., climbed to a height of 1,500 feet, and remained in the air until 5.38 p.m.

The machine was designed and entirely built by ex-Corporal Mechanic Manuel, late of the Royal Air Force, at his home at Folkestone.

Mr. Gurney Grice, who was appointed to observe the test by the British Gliding Association, the body controlling the sport in Great Britain, placed a sealed barograph in the machine before it was launched into the air.

"This is easily the longest gliding flight so far achieved by a British pilot," he said afterwards. "The machine is a scientific triumph for Mr. Manuel. The flight has proved that it is greatly superior to the German soaring gliders which we have hitherto been forced to import."

Flight-Lieutenant Mole has been making preparations for some time to attack the world's duration record, and after this initial success he hopes to tackle the record before long.—Reuter.

131,628 LETTERS ON POSTCARD

ASTONISHING RECORD CLAIMED

Berlin.

Berhard Schumacher, a painter at Muenster, claims to have set up a new world record by writing 23,281 words consisting of 131,628 letters on an ordinary postcard.

The text is nearly 88 pages of Adolf Hitler's book "My Fight." It comprises 236 lines and cannot be read until it has been magnified 40 times. It took 64½ hours to write and 20 hours to check.

The previous record for a postcard was 20,000 words and was set up in June by Konrad Kuebler, a Munich man.—Reuter.

delivered many addresses. An eloquent and vigorous speaker with a wonderful voice, she was still able at the age of 80 to hold a great audience.—British Wire Sept. 1933.

NATIONAL ECONOMIC COUNCIL.

FUNCTIONS REFERRED TO LEGISLATIVE YUAN

Nanking, Sept. 20. The Central Political Council this morning approved the regulations governing the organization and functions of the National Economic Council, which regulations have been referred to the Legislative Yuan for examination.

It is understood that the draft regulations include ten articles. The functions of the Council include, firstly, the examination of proposals and plans concerning national economic construction and development projects; secondly, the examination, as well as the fixing, of funds for economic construction and development projects, and, thirdly, direct supervision, as well as execution, of national economic construction and development plans and projects already decided upon. —Reuter.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

I am wondering if my readers give sufficient thought and consideration to the "timing factor." We know that the timing factor plays an important part in football, baseball and tennis, and it plays just as important a part in bridge. A hand which explains this timing factor in a simple manner is given below. In addition to the timing factor element, the hand is also interesting from a bidding angle.

The Bidding

The hand was played in the recent national championship tournament at Aabury Park, N.J. The majority of East and West players secured the contract for game in hearts. However, the bidding at one table was rather interesting and was as follows:

South and West passed. North made a weak third bid of one club. East overcalled with one heart. South bid one spade and West jumped to three hearts.

North had made an original psychic opening bid and decided, as he was not vulnerable, to carry his psychic through. He jumped the contract to four spades. East felt that North and South were trying to deprive him of a game, so went to five hearts, which South doubled.

The Play

It was South's opening lead, and when a contract is being played at five or six, we know that the opening lead determines the success or failure of the contract.

Let us take the suits in turn.—South had bid spades and this suit had been supported by North. However, in spite of the spade bid, East had gone to five hearts, therefore the spades should be a bad lead.

Naturally South could not open hearts. To open diamonds looked as though he were sacrificing, a trick, therefore South should reason as follows:

His partner may hold the ace of clubs and the ace of spades. However, supposing that he does hold the ace of spades and only the queen and ten of clubs—then if a spade is opened his partner's ace will be knocked out and the declarer will probably make his contract, while if a club is opened, he can establish a club trick, get in with the king of hearts and then lead a spade which will put his partner in with the ace.

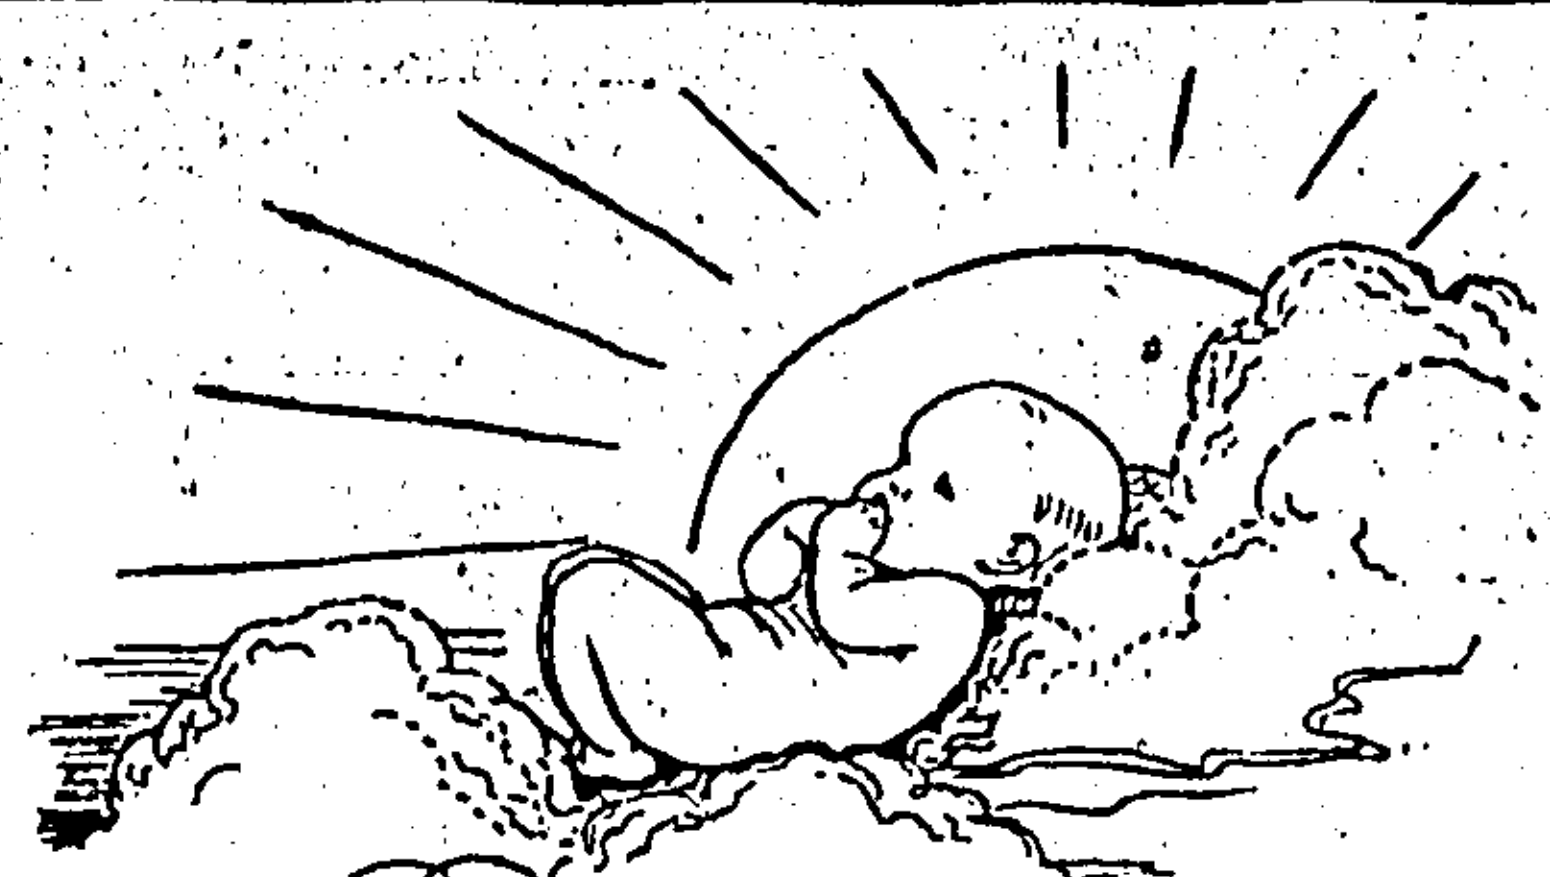

Of course when he does lead a club, he finds a more fortunate situation—his partner holds the ace of clubs which is immediately cashed, while South makes the king of clubs and the king of hearts, defeating the contract.

COOLIE ROBS EUROPEAN

PORT DEVELOPMENT OFFICER VICTIMISED

Mr. W. Shaw, of the Port Development Office, was the complainant in a case against Chan Kam-shing, an office coolie, who was fined 7 or ten days in default for stealing a pair of spectacles and a fountain pen belonging to the complainant.

The defendant pleaded that he had taken the articles for safe custody, but forgot to return them the following day.

Sub-Inspector Nolloth said that Mr. Shaw was not pressing the case, as the defendant had been given notice to leave at the end of the month. The defendant took the pen and the spectacles from an open drawer on Tuesday night.

ANOTHER SCHOOL ROBBERY

FORMER PUPIL SENT TO PRISON

Li Shiu-ying, who went to the Tung Nam School, Latchikok Road, and asked to see the headmaster, was recognised as a former student and was suspected of having stolen certain articles which had been missed recently.

Defendant was found to possess a matchbox containing pawn tickets which related to clothing. Further enquiries resulted in him being brought before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Kowloon Magistracy this morning charged with the theft of a quilt, an umbrella and a suit.

Defendant was sentenced to six weeks in gaol.

$10 NOTE "LIFTED" FROM CHINESE

SLEIGHT OF HAND TRICK DETECTED

A ten dollar bank note lifted from the pocket of an unknown Chinese in Shanghai Street last night, formed the subject of a charge brought against Mok Ping, before Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. Accused, who was in company with two others, was shadowed by two district watchmen, in plain clothes. He was observed to hold his toes in his right hand and slip his left hand across and extract the bank note which he put in the sweat-band of the hat.

Accused admitted four previous convictions, but added: "I am not guilty this time."

Six months' hard labour was passed. The magistrate directed the note to be kept and if no claimant was made within a few days it is to be added to the funds of the Poor Box.

CIVIL STRIFE

PETROL CONSIGNMENT SEIZED

Nanking, Sept. 21.

An unconfirmed report reaching Nanking states that civil strife has been renewed between the armies of General Ma Chung-ying and General Shang Shih-tsai.

Details are not available but it is alleged that a consignment of gasoline intended for supplying Government aeroplanes has been detained by Ma Chung-ying's troops when passing within the area under their jurisdiction.—Central News Agency.

CAR'S RADIATOR CAP STOLEN

OUT OF WORK YOUTH COMMITTS OFFENCE

Chan Wai, (19), unemployed, charged before Mr. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, with the larceny of a radiator cap, valued at $14, from a private car, parked in Bonham Road, was bound over in $50 to be of good behaviour for one year, and ordered to be sent back to the country.

Inspector Hourihan said that the defendant was arrested in Des Voeux Road carrying the radiator cap wrapped up in a piece of newspaper. He admitted he had taken it from a car. The complainant, Fung Man, a licensed driver, later made a report at the station, and identified the property as his.

BAG SNATCHING

PORTUGUESE CAPTURES WOULD-BE THIEF

Lei Cheuk, unemployed, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Police Court this morning, charged with stealing a leather handbag from Mrs. Griffiths, Ho Tung Mansions, Hankow Road. The accused pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months' hard labour together with twelve strokes of the birch.

Det-Sergeant Browne said that Mrs. Griffiths was walking in Nathan Road last night with the bag under her arm. The thief snatched it, ran away, and was caught by a Portuguese gentleman.
